FOREWORD BY ROTHMANS OF PALL MALL

When the first edition of the Rothmans Football Yearbook was published in the 1970-71 season we expressed the desire that it would become for football what Wisden has become for cricket, that is the authoritative reference book for the game. We hope we will not be accused of immodesty if we say that we now feel that our objective has virtually been achieved. This claim is based on the fact that one of the many things that Sports Editors of newspapers and Football League managers have in common is a copy of our yearbook on their desk.

The fact that 'professionals' have accepted our annual publication so well is something of which we are very proud, and we will do our utmost to continue serving them as well as the average football enthusiast.

Last season our name was associated with four sponsored leagues: the Isthmian, Northern, Western, and Hellenic, and the way in which these competitions have supported the aims and principles of attacking, positive, and sporting football has been most impressive.

We try to support and encourage, but never interfere with, the administration of the sports we help, and feel that through the Yearbook and sponsored leagues we have the opportunity to give a great deal to the game in some of the best ways open to a commercial company.

INTRODUCTION

As the compilers of Rothmans Football Yearbook 1975-76 we have been pleased with the progress of our previous editions. In a newspaper interview, Alec Stock, one of the most respected managers in the game, said that he buys Rothmans for his father every year, so that he knows all about football. Such spontaneous testimonials encourage us to strive to make this publication the most complete record of Association Football every published. Due to the wealth of material at our disposal, we have continued with our policy of introducing new items in every edition. There is a new, easily readable progress chart of all three major European international club competitions since their inception, and last season's tournaments are recorded in much greater detail. We have been able to publish a European club directory, thus catering for an ever-increasing section of our readers interested in international football. Our day-by-day diary is a unique record of the major and minor events of the year. The usual features include line-ups of every match played in the current European Championship, the most detailed record of last season's League campaign, FA and League Cup competitions, all-time goalscoring records of every player registered with the League, line-ups of all competitive games played in Scotland, international appearances for the Home Countries and the Republic of Ireland etc., etc.

Once again, we would like to acknowledge the invaluable assistance received from various organisations, club secretaries, and officials. We are especially grateful to Mr Bob Baldwin of the Football League, Mr John Carvosso and Mr Mike McNamara of the Football Association, and Mr Tom Maule of the Scottish League, whose ready help in all matters has been vitally important in compiling this Yearbook. We would also like to record our appreciation of the efforts of Miss Ann Meader of the Bagenal Harvey Organisation.

We have done our utmost to maintain previous standards, and we are confident that this, our sixth edition, will reaffirm the reputation of the Yearbook.

ROTHMANS FOOTBALL AWARDS 1975

A Rothmans innovation for the 1975-76 edition is the presentation of six football awards for the previous season, honouring half a dozen people who have made a worthwhile contribution to the wide spectrum of the game.

ALAN MULLERY. Fulham's captain was the Football Writers' Association choice as Player of the Year and an excellent selection in every respect. He led a team which really went a long way to putting the fun back into the game as well as enjoying some notable success in it. To them the FA Cup Final was an occasion of which they were a vital part and the result appeared not to affect their happy outlook. Mullery, in his second spell at Craven Cottage after a lengthy time at Spurs, has over 600 League appearances and 35 England caps as a midfield player; statistics which embrace pleasure for himself and spectators alike.

ALAN TAYLOR. Two goals in the FA Cup Final at Wembley for West Ham United crowned an eventful season for this sprightly fair-haired centre-forward, snapped up for a £45,000 fee from Rochdale in November 1974 by shrewd Hammers manager Ron Greenwood. Taylor scored twice on his Cup bow against Arsenal and hit both West Ham goals in their two semi-finals. A former Morecambe motor mechanic, he learned his football trade in the Northern Premier League before moving into the League with Rochdale. His late scoring exploits for West Ham gave the East Londoners an edge in a department where they had lacked a finisher to their sound, attractive approach work.

MIKE SMITH. An Englishman who in just one year has done much to put Welsh football back into serious reckoning with a best-ever performance in the European Championship. At 39 and living proof that modest players frequently make excellent coaches, his background with Corinthian Casuals, graduating to Olympic Games standard in 1960, led in turn to an appointment as the Welsh FA Director of coaching. He successfully guided the Welsh youth and amateur sides before taking over the national team. In the 1975 British International Championship they were minutes from causing Don Revie's England their first defeat at Wembley, though his reputation had been fashioned long before this match.

DICKIE GUY. At a time when Wimbledon meant little more than the Wombles to many people, this bearded part-time goalkeeper helped to put the Southern League side on the map. A penalty save against no less a marksman than Peter Lorimer earned his team a replay in the FA Cup on the eve of his 275th consecutive appearance for the club. Cheerful, likeable, and modest, Guy epitomised the dedication to the game at all levels by his kind. The English weather caused a postponement of the Leeds replay and when it took place their chance had gone, but Wimbledon and Guy had made their point.

COLIN TODD. This original Brian Clough signing for Derby County from Sunderland at £170,000 had an excellent season under Dave Mackay at the Baseball Ground, shoring up a defence which was without the injured Roy McFarland. Todd also regained his England jersey, thought lost when he had once declined to undertake an Under-23 tour. A quiet, unassuming person off the field but a ceaseless worker in defence and midfield, able to use his speed and accurate tackling to dispossess opponents and initiate attacks in a short space of time. A snappy, quick-thinking performer he contributed much to the success of Derby County's championship-winning side.

DIXIE McNEIL. Since goalscoring seems to be a relatively lost art in Britain, the performance of anyone who can score 35 goals in League and Cup is worth a mention. McNeil hauled in this total for Hereford United, a club in only their third year as part of the Football League and supposedly not completely versed in the ways of negativity as yet. But he is no stranger to the League or the non-league sphere, with a shoal of goals to his credit elsewhere as a professional in the best sense at Lincoln, Northampton, Corby Town, and Exeter, and allowed to leave Leicester City at an early age.

EDITORIAL

Brian James

It was not easy for anyone in football to manage a broad smile during season 1974-75 – a year, surely, in which sport had proof that it is not immune to the social and economic pressures of the society in which it lives.

Gates were up a shade in some areas of the major leagues; yet these increases went nowhere towards meeting the frighteningly inflated costs of every service and commodity. When clubs as great as Arsenal, for 50 years football's premier example of a solidly rich and successful business, admit that staff had been instructed to turn out unnecessary lights in corridors, it was obvious that this was no ordinary problem. When clubs as once-great as Portsmouth confess that had it not been for a pop concert they might not have survived the summer, it is obvious that clubs cannot go on finding ordinary hand-to-mouth solutions.

Yet there may be a silver lining to be found amid this encircling gloom. Sooner rather than later football will be compelled to sit down and consider all its inter-joined and connected problems – and arrive at a comprehensive set of answers. For too long the game has drifted along comfortably accepting the theory that the short, simple answer to all financial problems was to play more matches – ignoring the maxim that 'more means worse'.

As a result we have had to live through the years of proliferating competitions . . . increasingly stale footballers . . . a season that had neither a dramatic beginning nor a tidy end, and an audience grown accustomed to dismissing the mass of the mundane and content to wait for the highlights on television.

Sooner now, rather than later, football will be forced by economic pressures to sit down and reverse each and every one of these trends. The counter-revolution will not happen overnight, but already the climate of opinion within the game is being formed to accept the inevitable.

These are some of the changes one can expect to arise from football's re-think:

Smaller divisions – with only the First and Second employing full-time professional players.

More divisions – a system of regional minor divisions, with half of each team, at least, made up of part-time professionals.

A shorter, more elastic season, with a definite start-and-finish schedule to re-awaken appetites during the summer 'break', and space allowed for in winter to fit in European and international fixtures without conflict.

Less television – a game a week, perhaps, for the two major TV organisations, but a cut-down on the 'extras' which now enable the companies to flood the screens with goals throughout the week-end.

More competition for places in teams – the players might discover that the phrase 'freedom of contract' can be double-edged: with many players either out of work or only partially employed, they will be subject to the same 'perform or leave' pressures that apply in every other trade or craft.

A change in playing styles – more and more people in football are now reminding themselves of Bill Nicholson's wise words: 'We are reaching the stage where we might have to stop playing the game the way we want, and play the football that the crowds want to see.'

To bring this about – perhaps a change in some rules of the Leagues if not the laws of the game. Points for goals . . . league-placings decided on goal 'difference' . . . a new offside law . . . all these ideas will certainly be brought up for discussion again. Football is an entertainment business, and, ultimately, it is on its appeal to the fans that it must survive.

None of these changes will come easily, or without opposition. Football is too entrenched in tradition, too long accustomed to muddling through, to accept any new ideas without the greatest misgivings.

Time and again its legislators have tip-toed up to these and many, many other suggested improvements, and then shied away. But then, football has never been in quite the economic plight it faces today. The time to have made changes to keep the game's momentum flowing was in the good years. Then, the opportunities were lost. Now very little choice remains – 80, at least, of the 92 Football League clubs will tell you they can't go on as they are. Change, or collapse, is inevitable.

British football will end up a slimmer, sleeker and more customer-orientated industry than it has been these past decades. But the casualties, among clubs, players, and competitions, will be heavy.

A Tribute to Pele

Pele was a goal machine with talent; probably with as much natural ability as any footballer in the world past, present, or future. Born Edson Arantes do Nascimento in Tres Coracoes in the state of Minas Gerais in 1940, he had the classical background of a poor family and was brought up kicking a ball made out of old socks.

After playing in the local boys team in Bauru he was taken under the wing of Waldemar de Brito—a pre-war Brazilian World Cup player who ran the local Second Division side. Waldemar realised that he had a priceless jewel in his hands, a gem of exciting potential, a veritable black pearl. He wisely coached away the rough edges of weakness in Pele's play without damaging the core of inherent natural ability.

When Pele was 15, Waldemar advised him to join Santos, the crack Sao Paulo club. At 15½ and a member of the third team he had a chance in a friendly with a mixture of first and second team players. Santos won 6-2 and Pele scored four goals. His first team debut was against AIK Stockholm, but he did not score. Yet he opened his account for Santos on September 7, 1956 with one goal in a 7-1 win over Corinthians of Santo Andre. On September 22, 1974 he scored both goals in his last scoring game against Guarani.

Pele's first international opportunity came before he was 17 in 1957 against Argentina in a Roca Cup game, coming on as a substitute and scoring within 10 minutes. In November 1969 Pele reached his 1,000th goal in senior matches. He retired from international football in 1971 after playing in 110 matches for Brazil (some records say 111) and scoring 97 goals. He played in the 1958, 1962, 1966, and 1970 World Cups. His final overall tally worked out at 1254 matches and 1216 goals.

But though his scoring statistics will remain long after the memory of his prowess has gone, it was his extraordinary ability as a skilful footballer which enabled him to get these goals. His control was precise, his dribbling either close or loose was equally as correct, his speed of movement and thought was often too much for opponents and colleagues alike. He could glide a ball with his head, stroke it with either foot or hammer it with bullet-like precision with head or foot when the need arose. Above all he had a wide peripheral vision which helped his keen brain to take in the entire field. His like will probably not be seen again.

Tribute to Sir Stanley Rous

Although it has been an overworked description, the role of Football Ambassador as applied to Sir Stanley Rous has been an apt one. In his lifetime in the game he has seen considerable changes affecting the sport, many of them directly due to his personal influence at international level. Last year he was succeeded as President of FIFA by Joao Havelange after 12 years of outstanding service in the highest chair of office known in the footballing world.

Much of the Rous technique as an administrator developed from his early career as a teacher, and both this and his association as a keen amateur player and, later, referee proved of immense value in subsequent years.

In 1934, at the age of 39, the highlight of his refereeing career came when he was given charge of the FA Cup Final at Wembley. Shortly afterwards he was pressed to apply, successfully, for the position of secretary to the FA.

During his reign until taking up his appointment with FIFA, Rous was responsible for important legislation at all levels of the game, not the least of which was the skilful manner in which he persuaded foreign opinion to agree to the return of the four home countries to the FIFA fold at the end of the war.

Rous's horizons have always been wider than the domestic confines of the English game and it was fitting that he should eventually become President of FIFA in 1961, though he has never lost his dedication to the cause of England at any time.

Other milestones of achievement in his career included his universally accepted diagonal system of refereeing, the growth of organised training and coaching, a levelling up of the interpretation of the Laws of the Game by referees, encouraging young footballing nations, and the exchange of ideas in the game between different nations. A founder-member of UEFA, the Central Council of Physical Recreation in Great Britain, a serving member of the International Olympic Committee, a member of the International Board and holder of various positions in FIFA apart from the Presidency, his whole life has been devoted to the game.

In 1949 he was knighted and undoubtedly his next finest moment came in 1966 when he was able to see England triumph in the World Cup Final at Wembley in the ground where he had ended one career and started on his long administrative service three decades earlier.

Even at the age of 80 he has the enthusiasm of a much younger man, and he continues his ceaseless vigil as the champion of the cause of the game all over the world.

DIARY 1974-75

3 Chelsea pays a club record £225,000 for David Hay of Celtic . . . Bobby Collins is the new manager of Huddersfield . . . A shake-up at board level at AFC Bournemouth. Five directors resign with Harry Stacey reverting to the job of Secretary . . . Holland beat Brazil 2-0 (Neeskens, Cruyff) and W. Germany defeat Poland 1-0 (Müller) in virtual World Cup semi-finals.

4 Don Revie is appointed the new England team manager in succession to Sir Alf Ramsey.

7 W. Germany beat Holland 2-1 in the World Cup Final. Neeskens scores from a penalty in the first minute. Breitner equalizes with a spot-kick, and Müller scores the winning goal before half-time. Jack Taylor (Wolverhampton) is the referee.

9 Stoke pay £200,000 for Geoff Salmons of Sheffield U.

12 Terry Paine moves to Hereford as a player/coach . . . Dramatic announcement at Anfield—Bill Shankly retires because he feels the strain of being involved in top class football. His last deal—£200,000 for Ray Kennedy (Arsenal).

15 Arsenal buy Brian Kidd, £110,000, as a replacement for Kennedy . . . Tottenham sign Alfie Conn.

16 Orient announce plans for a new stand and £2,200,000 sports and office complex next to their Brisbane Road ground.

17 Leicester grant Peter Shilton's transfer request . . . The League Chairmen accept the TV contract for a three-year period. The voting is 36 in favour, 13 against.

19 'Pop' Robson joins Sunderland from West Ham for £145,000 . . . Nottingham F. put top striker Duncan McKenzie on the transfer list after contract negotiations reach deadlock.

20 Brian Clough leaves Brighton to become the new Leeds manager. He accepts a five-year contract worth a reported £20,000 per year. His former assistant, Peter Taylor, stays at Brighton as the new boss.

22 Jeff Astle, the former England striker, joins Southern League Club Dunstable . . . Derek Possee signs for Orient for £50,000 . . . Mike Bamber, the Brighton chairman, accuses the Leeds directors of 'going-back' on a gentleman's agreement concerning compensation for Brian Clough's services.

24 Stoke instal moats at their Victoria ground.

26 George Best signs to play in two pre-season friendlies for Southern League Dunstable . . . Bob Paisley is appointed the new manager of Liverpool. The 54-year-old former assistant to Bill Shankly has been with the club since 1939 . . . Sunderland defender David Young signs for Charlton for £20,000.

29 Leeds reject Brighton's claim that £75,000 compensation was agreed for Clough . . . Luton sign Adrian Alston, the Australian World Cup striker.

30 Leeds trainer/coach Les Cocker quits the club to become No. 2 to Don Revie at the Football Association. Cocker has been with Leeds since 1961, and was trainer to the England squad under Sir Alf Ramsey.

31 Tony Byrne, the Southampton and Eire defender, joins Hereford for £18,000. New manager John Sillett earlier signed veteran Terry Paine and Fred Kemp from the same club.

August

1 Brian Clough signs his former Derby coach Jimmy Gordon for Leeds as replacement for Les Cocker. Cocker's FA appointment has still not been formally confirmed.

3 Feyenoord beat Chelsea 3-1 in a friendly at Rotterdam. New expensive signing David Hay is substituted in the second-half. Dave Sexton says, 'It will take some time for him to get used to us, and for us to get used to him.' . . . Alan Ball suffers a fracture in another friendly in Holland, as Arsenal lose 3-0 to Haarlem. This is only Ball's second match since he returned after a lengthy injury.

5 George Best plays for Southern League club Dunstable Town in a friendly. They beat Manchester U. reserves 3-2, and Best is mobbed off the field . . . In Bruges, five Manchester U. supporters are sentenced to one month imprisonment for rowdyism.

6 Leeds sign Nottingham F. striker Duncan McKenzie for £250,000—a record for both clubs . . . Kevin Keegan of Liverpool is sent off in a friendly at Kaiserslautern.

7 Chelsea buy Johnny Sissons from Norwich for £50,000.

8 Football League referees are given a new 'get-tough' charter with firm orders to crack down on law breakers. The League have circulated the new code of conduct to all clubs, with the backing of the FA. One change is a direct spin-off from the World Cup Finals—a trainer cannot give an injured player treatment on the field.

10 The season opens with a shabby Charity Shield game at Wembley. The continuous brawling between the Leeds and Liverpool players reaches its ugly climax when Keegan and Bremner swap punches and are then sent off by referee Bob Matthewson. The game finishes 1-1 in ordinary time, and Liverpool win the penalty competition 6-5 when Harvey blasts over the bar and Ian Callaghan scores from the spot.

12 Bill Shankly officially ends his 'reign' at Liverpool as manager. His last game is a testimonial in Glasgow for Billy McNeil, the Celtic skipper. 60,000 people give a great ovation to both teams and Shankly. The result: Celtic 1, Liverpool 1 . . . John Collins leaves Portsmouth and joins Halifax for an £8000 fee . . . Tony Powell is the sixth player to move from AFC Bournemouth to Norwich since John Bond, the manager, made a similar move. Trevor Howard, valued at £50,000 is also involved in this exchange deal . . . Both Alan Hardaker and Ted Croker express great disappointment over last Saturday's Wembley fiasco. Croker says, 'We are trying to make football more acceptable to a wider range of people. Football will survive, but players must learn they cannot throw punches at each other.' . . . Meantime, Brian Clough states that in the future, any disciplinary action inside the club will stay a private matter between him and the players.

13 A record transfer deal for Manchester C. as WBA's Asa Hartford moves to the Lancashire club for £250,000 . . . Nottingham F. sign David Jones, the Welsh U-23 defender from Bournemouth for £85,000. Another Bournemouth player on the move—Micky Cave to York (£18,000) . . . Tottenham put Martin Chivers, John Pratt, and Mike Dillon on the transfer list . . . Johann Cruyff is sent off in a friendly match against Penarol. The world's most expensive and best-rated player allegedly flattens the Uruguayan, Fernandez, with a right hook.

14 Derby sign Francis Lee, the ex-England international, from Manchester C. for £100,000 . . . Wrexham say they won't be able to stage international matches in the future, because they cannot afford the £5000 cost of erecting fences around the ground.

15 Tony Barlow of Harrow takes out summonses against Bremner and Keegan 'for behaviour in a public place likely to cause a breach of peace' . . . Middlesbrough players will be fined by manager Jack Charlton if they break the strict disciplinary code worked out for them by the club . . . Another record-breaking transfer —Larry Lloyd (Liverpool) signs for Coventry for £240,000 . . . Two England players will miss the season's opening League games because they are on the transfer list. Peter Shilton of Leicester is replaced by Mark Wallington, and the young Chris Jones of Tottenham is named as deputy for Martin Chivers . . . Tony Taylor (Crystal Palace) moves to Southend for £25,000.

16 The magistrate refuses the application of Mr Barlow for summonses against the two players who were sent off at Wembley . . . Big transfer deal on the Continent

—Paul Breitner, Bayern Munich's international full-back, signs for Real Madrid, the Spanish Cup holders, for £420,000.

17 Some surprise results on the opening day of the season—six away wins in the First Division. Newly-promoted Carlisle beat Chelsea at Stamford Bridge, where the Londoners unveil their magnificent new stand, which cost £2 million . . . Middlesbrough win 3-0 at Birmingham, but newcomers Luton lose at home to Liverpool. Stoke, Leeds' bogey team, beat the champions 3-0 at the Victoria Ground . . . The 92 Football League clubs are to be given 14 days to present details of their security programmes. Mr Howell was disclosing a 10-point plan of action during a visit to Second Division Blackpool's ground at Bloomfield Road where he saw the spot at which a Blackpool fan was stabbed to death at Saturday's game against Bolton. The Minister said that Mr Alan Hardaker, Football League secretary, and Mr Eddie Plumley, secretary of Coventry City, would investigate the problems of setting up a nation-wide identification card system. June

6 The Football League AGM. Stoke City's forlorn bid to remain in the UEFA Cup produces sympathy but no chance of reversing the European Union's decision that they had finished too low in the League to qualify. The 'one city one club' ruling, which had stood for many years as a legacy from the Fairs Cup, turns out to be a millstone now that UEFA have decided to abide by their own statute, but this is no consolation for bitterly disappointed Stoke. Everton may yet get into the competition. No shocks on the re-election of clubs to Division Four. All are re-elected, with Kettering's 20 votes coming nearest to the Workington total of 28.

Eight Great Goals of 1974-75

Once again Rothmans Football Yearbook has sought to encapsulate the season, in diagrammatic form, in terms of its memorable goals. The selection, as ever, has been based on moments of significance on a variety of criteria – the goal of exquisite individual skill, the goal created by perfect teamwork, the goal which clinched a title, the goal which set those who conceded it on a downward path. Above all, each of the eight goals deserves recollecton for its effect on the year of 1974-75, either as a piece of unforgettable inspiration or in a more long-term context.

Mike Channon's goal for England against Czechoslovakia comes under the latter umbrella. It was the first scored under the new regime of Don Revie, but in addition it happened in a manner which told volumes about the attitude of the new England manager. His side had struggled to score against the tight Czech defence, and Revie opted for a double substitution. His two replacements, Thomas and Brooking, added speed of thought as well as of movement, and from Brooking's quickly-taken free-kick Thomas crossed for Channon to score.

Stoke City gave to the season much of its uninhibited attacking football, and Jimmy Greenhoff's spectacular volley against Birmingham City was typical of their instinctive style. His control and shot exhibited masterful technique and the goal was due reward for a willingness to attempt the improbable.

The excellent solo burst and finishing drive from Mick Walsh of Blackpool against Sunderland would have merited inclusion in its own right, but at the end of the season it was seen to have extra significance. Coming, as it did, in the last minute, it robbed Sunderland of a point – the margin by which they failed to gain promotion.

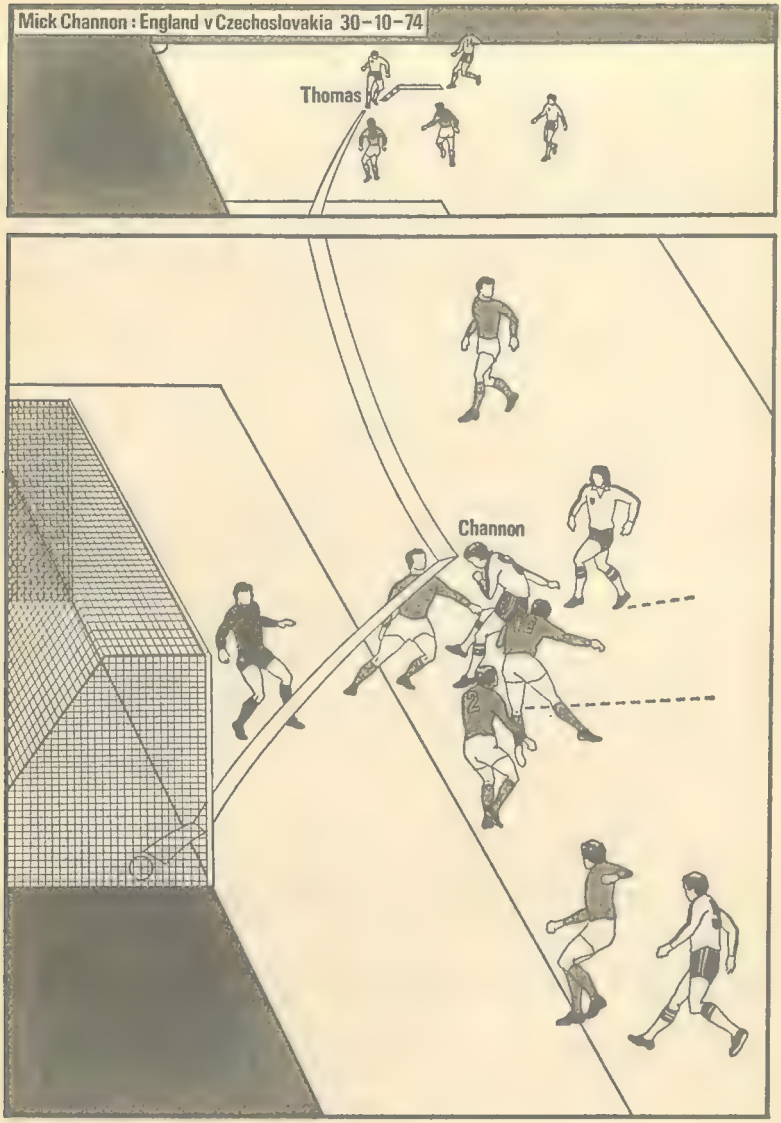
In an excellent season for Second Division sides, another of their number, Fulham, achieved some startling results in their FA Cup run, but the best win was surely at Everton – and Viv Busby's winner was worthy of the occasion; some clever footwork and a crisp finish coming at the end of an incisive left-flank run from Jimmy Conway.

Penalties are much the same in any context, but there was a special quality about Ray Graydon's against Norwich City at Wembley. It reflected the narrow margin of Aston Villa's success in the all-Second Division League Cup final – the ball rebounding to the scorer via the fingertips of Kevin Keelan and the inside of the post. But there was a feeling of appropriateness about the winning goal falling to Graydon, a winger who scored 27 times in Villa's Cup and League triumphs.

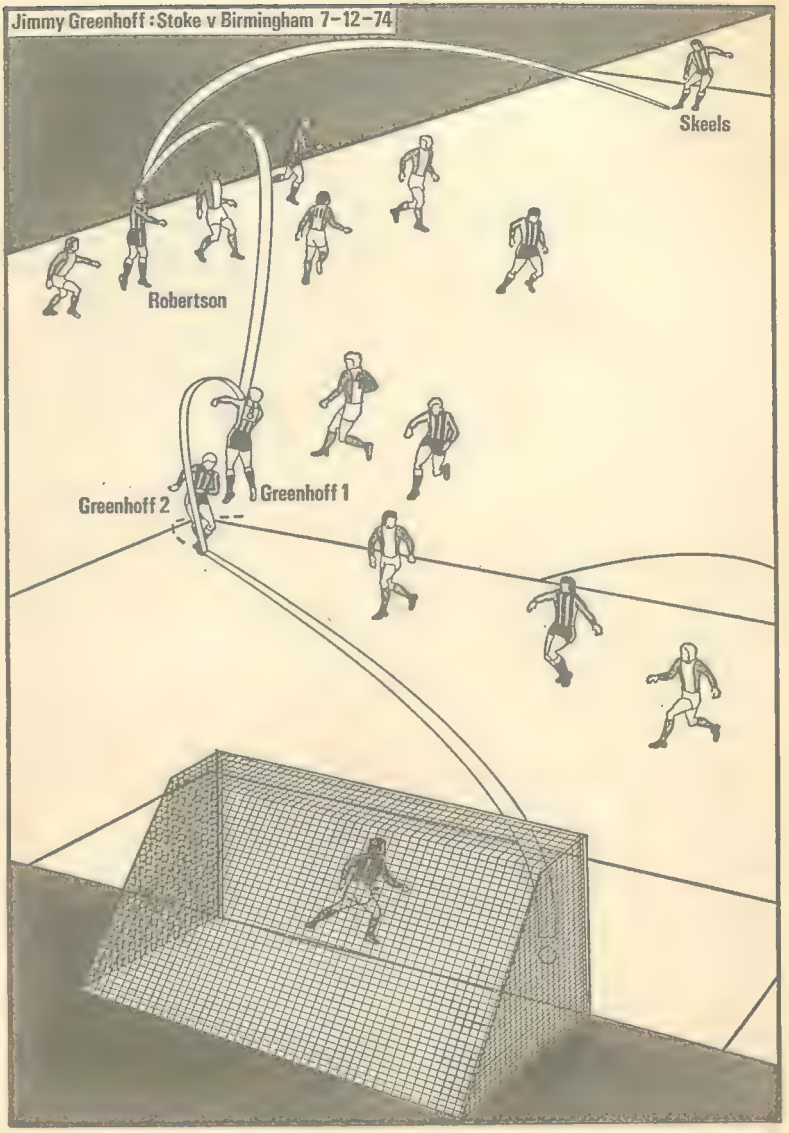
If Leeds United's attempts to win the European Cup ended in the midst of some of the season's most unpleasant scenes, with the brutish behaviour of some of their supporters in Paris, there had been much to admire in their progress to that final. Their performance amid the mud and the claxons of Anderlecht's stadium in Brussels was near-faultless, and Bremner's winning goal the perfect culmination to their domination of the Belgian champions.

There was very little beauty about Bob Latchford's goal at Stamford Bridge on the last Saturday of the League season, but its effect was quite dramatic, committing Chelsea to relegation and some financial disorder under the shadow of their expensive new grandstand. For Everton, too, it re-emphasised the value of Latchford's regular finishing; had Billy Bingham found another goalscorer to set alongside him, Everton must surely have landed the First Division title that for much of the year they so threatened to win.

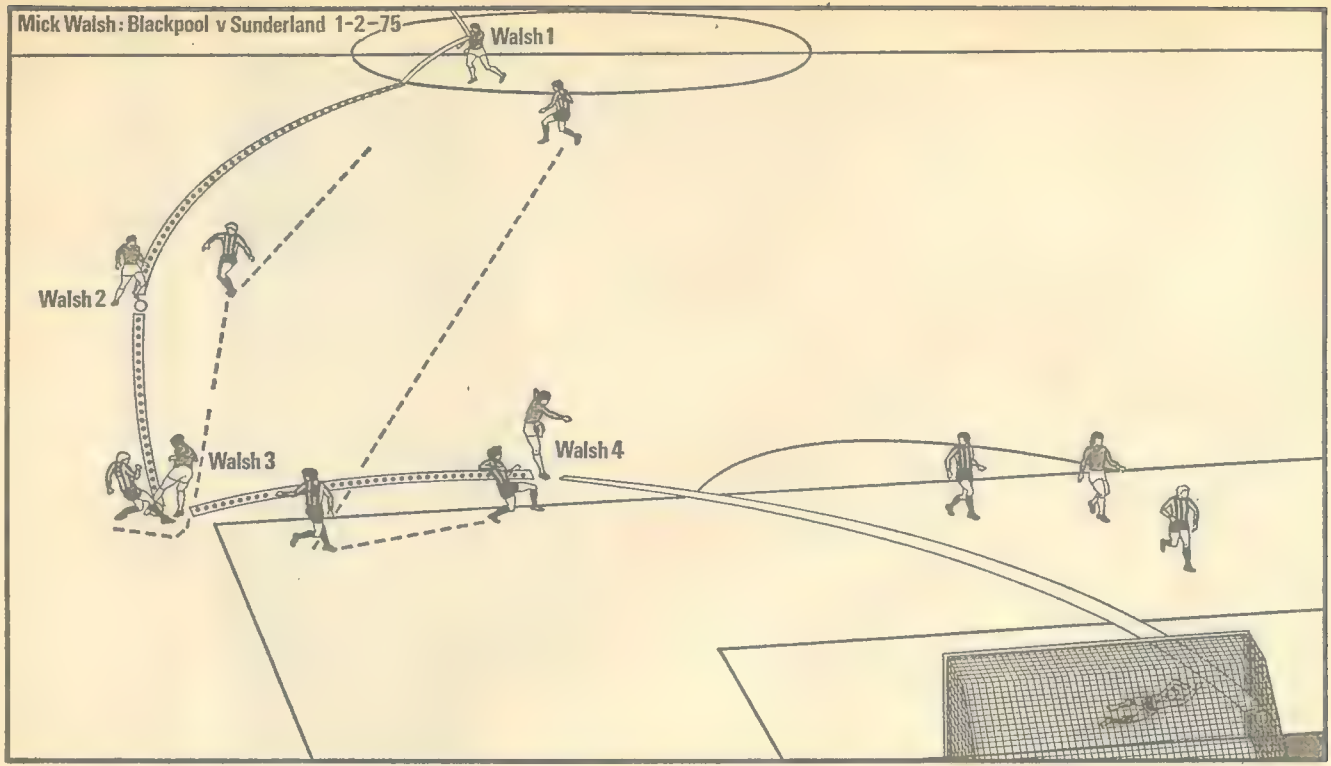
Sadness, then, in West London, but unbounded joy on the other side of town. West Ham at last found profit from their appealing style and won the FA Cup – a success carved out on the goals of Alan Taylor, the twenty-one-year old who began the season with Rochdale, but who settled to the top flight with two goals in both the quarter-final and semi-final, and then repeated the feat at Wembley.



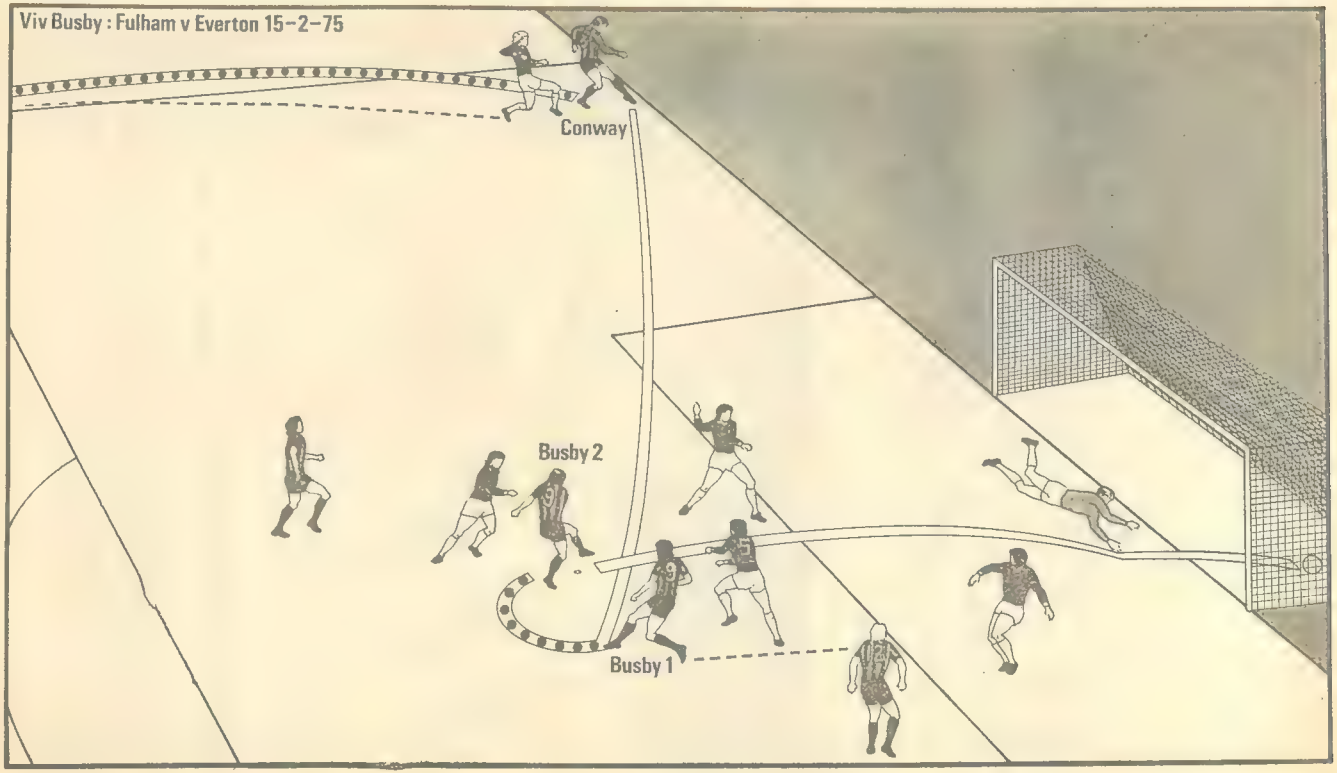
The first goal scored by England under the managership of Don Revie. The upper diagram shows Trevor Brooking's quickly taken free-kick, which enabled Dave Thomas to put over an early cross. This gave Mick Channon enough space to meet the centre and score with a perfect header.



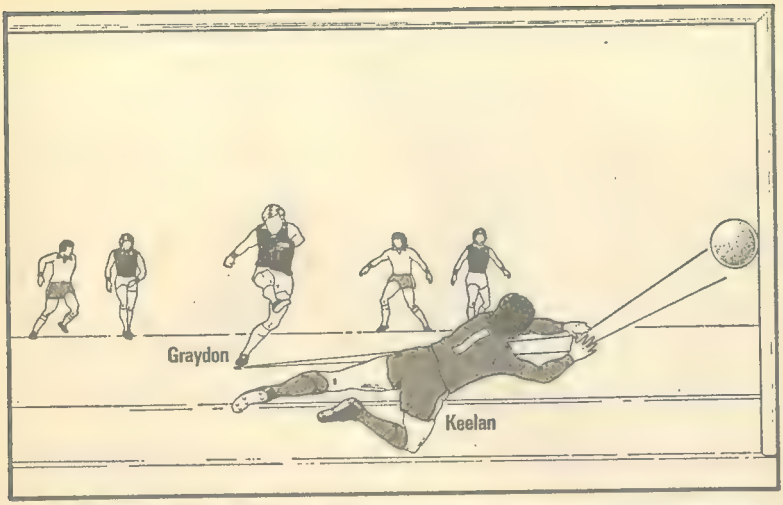
Birmingham's goal did not appear to be directly threatened when Robertson flicked on Skeels' forward pass towards Greenhoff. But the Stoke forward manipulated the ball on his chest, swivelled, and before it touched the ground volleyed magnificently into the far corner.

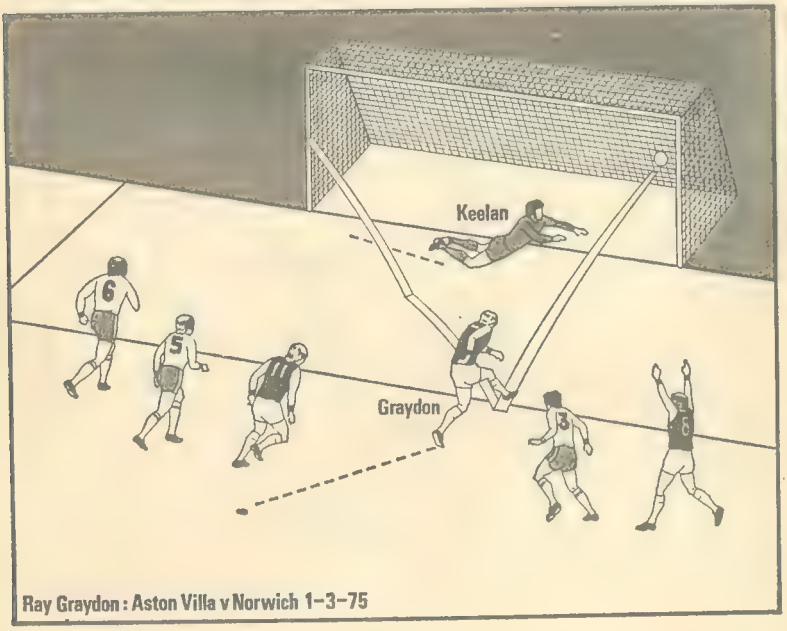


Mick Walsh's remarkable solo goal began just inside the Sunderland half when he controlled a clearance. Defenders appeared to have forced him away from the goal when he twisted inside towards the edge of the penalty area and shot a last-minute winner of almost fictional dimensions.



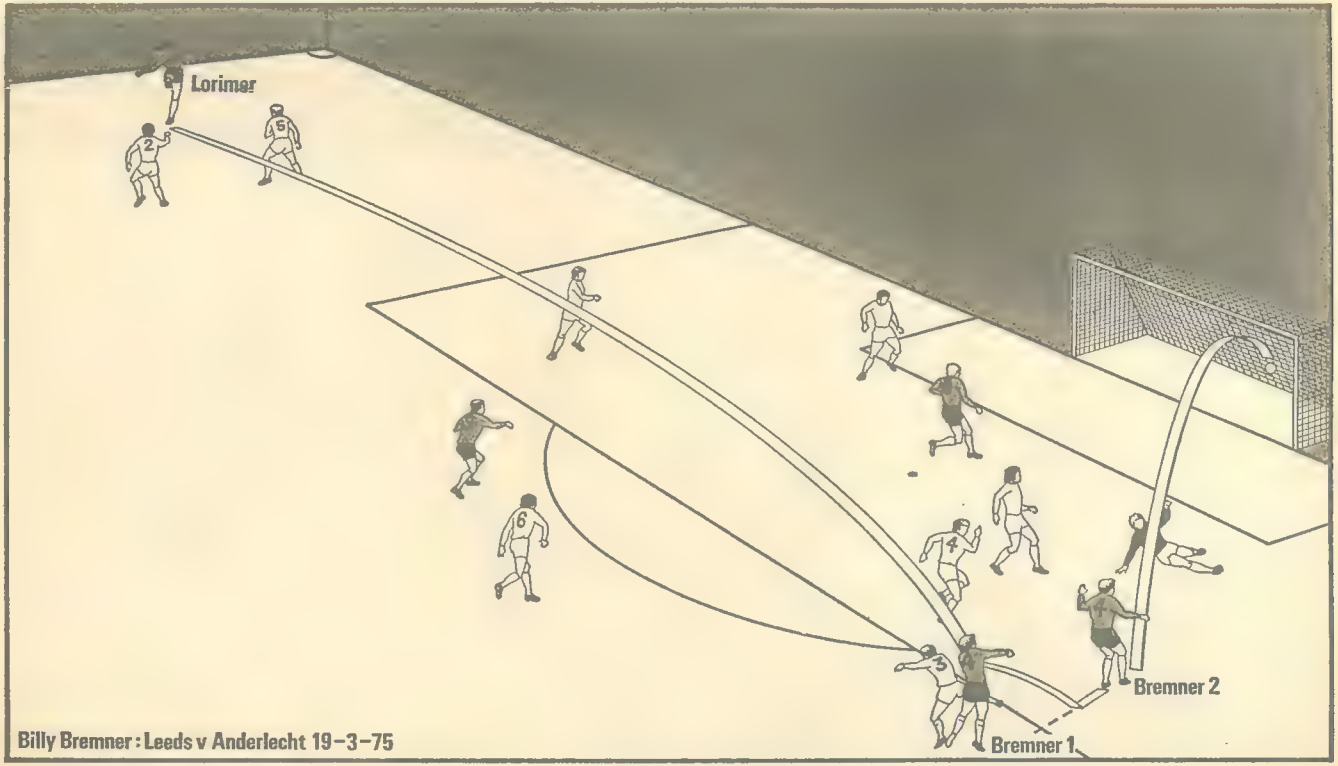
Jimmy Conway's penetrating run to the by-line opened the way for Viv Busby's spectacular winner at Goodison Park. The cross arrived behind Busby but with sharp control and a silky turn he wriggled an opening and pulled his shot across and beyond Davies.



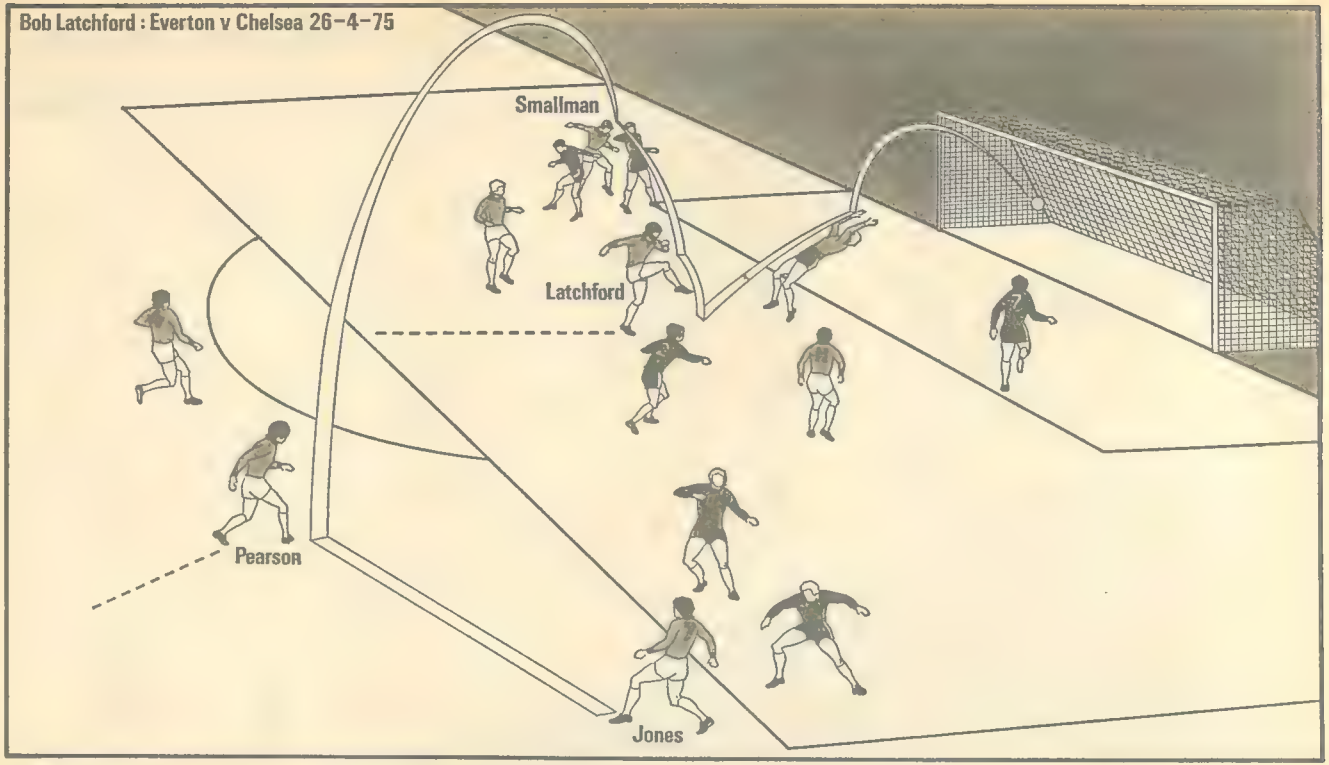


Ray Graydon : Aston Villa v Norwich 1–3–75

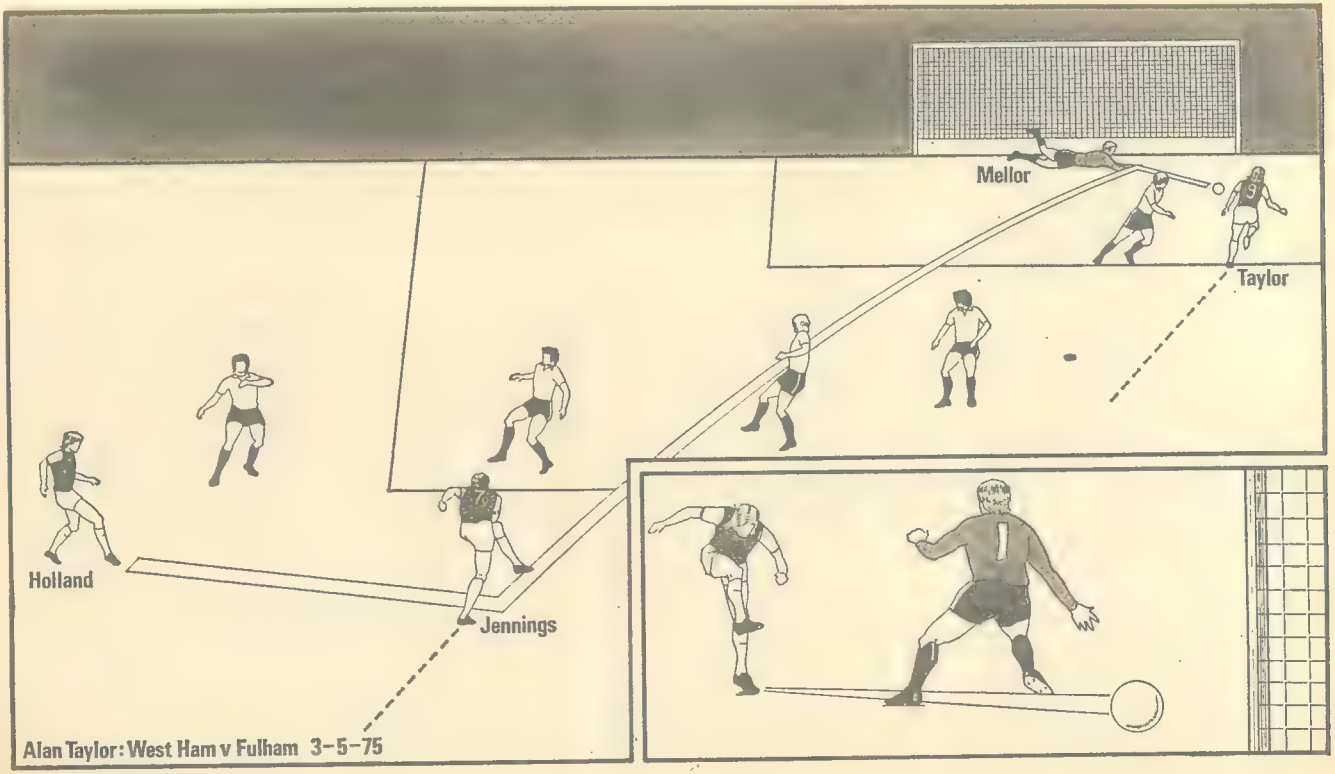
The top diagram records the marvellous attempt by Kevin Keelan to reach Ray Graydon's penalty-kick at Wembley. But as the lower sketch reveals, the goalkeeper could only push the ball on to the post from where it rebounded for Graydon to score and win the League Cup for Aston Villa.



A commanding Leeds performance in Brussels was sealed when Peter Lorimer crossed with characteristic accuracy from the left. Bremner had embarked on a forward run and he took the ball on his chest; as the goalkeeper advanced he checked and coolly chipped the ball into the net.



Chelsea's team of youngsters finally lost their battle to stay in Division One when they could not clear Jim Pearson's looping cross. Following Smallman's aggressive challenge, the ball dropped to Latchford and though Phillips parried the shot it dropped tantalisingly behind him and across the line.



53 Jennings' snap shot from Holland's short pass paved the way for West Ham's Wembley success. Mellor, whose handling in the previous rounds had been faultless, could not hold the ball, and Alan Taylor reacted the quicker to shoot his first goal through the goalkeeper's legs.

FOOTBALLER OF THE YEAR

The Football Writers Association was founded in 1947, and it was proposed that the members should elect the Footballer of the Year at the end of each season. The first recipient of the Award, a statuette of a footballer on a square plinth, was one of the all-time greats, Stanley Matthews. The Award, presented at a dinner held in London during Cup Final week, is given 'to the Player, who by precept and example on and off the field, shall have been considered to have done most for football during that season'. To this day, this Award has remained the most prestigious for any player, and the dinner in his honour is an important occasion for English football.

This season, Alan Mullery became the first Fulham player to be elected, finishing ahead of Alan Hudson and Colin Todd. The popular 'Mullers', who has captained England and Tottenham and represented his country 35 times, returned to his boyhood club, Fulham, in 1973. By example, as a brilliant skipper, he inspired his young colleagues in a marvellous Cup run, which took the Thames-side club into an FA Cup Final for the first time.

Ron Saunders is Manager of the Year

Saunders – who in the space of 18 months left one club (Norwich), was fired by a second (Manchester City) after less than 5 months, and led Aston Villa to their promotion/Cup double in his first season there – was presented with a cheque for £1000 by Eric Morecambe at the Bell's Scotch Whisky Football Managers Awards luncheon at the Cafe Royal, London.

Saunders has been much-travelled as a player and as a manager. He played for Everton, Tonbridge, Gillingham, Portsmouth, Watford, and Charlton; and prior to joining Villa last June, he was manager at Yeovil, Oxford, Norwich, and Manchester City – winning promotion to the First Division with Norwich in 1972 during his 4½ years there. European Footballer of the Year 1974

Johan Cruyff made history by winning the European Footballer of the Year award in 1974 for the third time. It was the second time in succession that he had been honoured in this way, and he had previously won the award in 1971.

The voting was expected to be a 'damned close thing' between Cruyff and Franz Beckenbauer—respective captains of the Dutch and West German teams in the World Cup Final. As the Germans had been successful in that match it was predicted that Beckenbauer might have taken the honour by a narrow margin. Instead, the figures gave Cruyff 116 votes and Beckenbauer 105.

Beckenbauer had been Footballer of the Year in Europe in 1972 and was placed fourth in 1973.

The World Cup dominated the voting again, as is usual in every fourth year. All the top placings went to players who appeared in the finals in Germany.

Great Britain again failed to impress any of the voters. Billy Bremner, as captain of Scotland, was the only player from these shores to get in. He finished ninth with nine votes. Mere shades of earlier times when Stanley Matthews was the first winner in 1956, Denis Law took the honour in 1964, Bobby Charlton in 1966, and George Best in 1968!

Both Cruyff and Beckenbauer have had their respective problems in 1974, with Barcelona struggling to keep in the top half of the Spanish table and Bayern Munich gradually dropping down the West German Bundesliga, but all that is secondary to the role of the international footballer.

Review of the Season

If the 1974-75 season will not linger in the memory for the quality of the end product, it will certainly be remembered for the thrill and intrigue of League competition in which a levelling-off of standards ensured that many of the critical issues remained undecided until the last few days of April.

The First Division Championship provided a case in point. Unlike many recent seasons there was no Leeds, Liverpool, or Arsenal to set the sort of pace that burned off most challengers well before the final run-in. Everton, Stoke, Ipswich, Burnley, Liverpool Derby, and Middlesbrough all retained a realistic interest into the last month of competition.

Like the very best of horse races it was a situation tailor-made for the late run, and Derby County fashioned that form to emerge from the bunch and take their second title in four years by a short head. Without detracting from their success, it highlighted the dearth of a really outstanding side because they had been able to overcome a disastrous start to the season, normally a disease malignant to championship hopes, when they won just one of their first seven League games. Indeed, their final total of just 53 points was the lowest since Chelsea's win twenty years earlier.

Nevertheless, it provided a quite remarkable triumph for Dave Mackay. Not only had he been able to motivate players who had threatened strike action a year earlier when he arrived to succeed Brian Clough, but his purchases, Rioch from Aston Villa and the revitalised Lee from Manchester City, scored the goals that mattered. Indeed, the midfield concentration of the sharp skills of Rioch, Newton, and Gemmill formed the cornerstone of the victory; no battering Rams here. And all this without, until the very last gasp, the commanding presence of the injured Roy McFarland.

For so long it had seemed that Everton, less flamboyant but more consistent, would be Leeds' successors. Criticised from within football and without for negative and over-aggressive attitudes, they reached the half-way mark of the season with but one defeat to their name. But manager Billy Bingham will reflect that the points lost in a staggering eighteen draws proved fatal as a young side finally lost their belief over their last few fixtures. Further pain came when they finally finished below Liverpool after heading them for almost the entire season. That Liverpool, now without the drive of the messianic Shankly, could earn second place with only the occasional stammer of their very best form again emphasised the paucity of the highest standards.

Ipswich and Stoke matched the attraction of Derby, but inexperience and the demands of other tournaments for the former and a cruel run of injuries, including five broken legs, for the latter hampered their causes. Middlesbrough and Burnley faded at the final inquisition while Leeds United lost their title in 44 days of trauma in August and September, the span of Brain Clough's reign as managerial successor to Don Revie. The irony was inescapable; whereas players had threatened strike action when Clough left Derby, it was the Leeds players whose discontented broodings provided this new downfall. If Clough's behaviour lacked a sensitivity towards the feelings of his team towards his predecessor, it in no way matched the callousness of the Leeds board, whose total belief in Clough turned to total disbelief in an extraordinarily short space of time.

The second season of 'three-up, three-down', boosted again by the similarity of teams' abilities, provided a breathtaking relegation battle. Carlisle tasted the euphoria of heading the table on the first lap of the race but a succession of defeats by the odd goal, again emphasising the equality in the division, sent them down. Luton, too, failed to consolidate after promotion, though six wins in their last ten games almost produced some masterful escapology. That quality was reserved for Spurs, under the helm of Terry Neill following the retirement of Bill Nicholson. In nine games in the new year they scored three goals and took one point, before Easter brought a resurgence and safety at the expense of Chelsea, who, with their ground improvements, suffered a financial as well as an emotional tragedy.

The West London Club must draw hope from the experience of Manchester United, who bounced straight back from the Second Division with frenetic support though a violent minority left scars to the club's reputation around the country. Norwich, too, regained their status at the expense of Sunderland, whose early challenge surprisingly died, while Aston Villa's wheel turned full circle after their decline eight years earler. Encouraged by their League Cup run, Villa's end of season form became impeccable with a devastating finish of twenty-six goals and eight straight wins.

Sadly, another club of proud history, Sheffield Wednesday, took the opposite route – with the season's most remarkable statistic, just two League goals in their last 17 Second Division games – along with Millwall and Cardiff City. In Divisions Three and Four, the attractive styles of Plymouth, Blackburn, Charlton, and Mansfield were duly rewarded, while Chester, like Villa sustained by their League Cup form, put one sad record behind them. At the start of the season they had been the only club who had never savoured the taste of promotion, but when Lincoln lost at Southport on the last Tuesday of the season, Chester took the fourth promotion place by four-hundredths of a goal!

Perhaps the sharpness of the competition was partly to blame for a drastic backslide in discipline which saw a record 110 players being sent off, a style sadly etched at the outset when Keegan and Bremner were dismissed from the FA Charity Shield match, an inauspicious beginning to the first of such occasions to be held at Wembley. But the competitiveness was certainly a factor in a pleasing if slight rise in overall average attendances.

Politically, the players continued in their attempts to alter the conditions of their employment to their clubs by lobbying for freedom of contract, an attempt to alter the present system which permits a club to retain the registration of a player even when his contract runs out. They must continue their negotiations without one of their most persuasive advocates, Derek Dougan, whose retirement as a player after 18 seasons ends his term as chairman of the Professional Footballers' Association. A farewell, too, to Denis Law, who chose his World Cup appearance with Scotland as his finale to fifteen years of charisma and goalscoring swagger.

Whatever new system of employment the players and their management eventually resolve it seems that transfers will no longer be conducted at inflated prices. A peak was reached in November when Stoke paid Leicester £350,000 for the services of Peter Shilton. But the conditions which created a sellers' market no longer prevailed, and for many clubs survival itself in an awkward economic climate became a main priority. And for all the fervent competition that the season had provided, the year ended on a note of depression as large numbers of players were freed by clubs who had been forced to operate on the most stringent economies. The future of next season depends very largely on how well these clubs can master that challenge.

Introduction to Club Section

Once again Rothmans Football Yearbook has attempted to improve the highly popular Club Section dealing with the Football League clubs by including the number of each match alongside the result for easy reference when a particular line-up is being sought by readers. This, it is hoped, will be of some benefit and speed up the process of finding who played against whom and when. This facility appears, of course, on 'pages 2 and 3' of the section.

This part of the review of the domestic season 1974-75 includes the two most vexed of football statistics, goalscorers and substitutes. In the case of scoring goals it cannot be stressed too often that there is no absolute authority for them. Clubs tend to eliminate as many own goals as possible, giving them to their last player who touched the ball in many instances. Wherever possible, we have agreed with the figures presented by the clubs in this respect.

As far as substitutes are concerned, these have been with us in League matches since season 1965–66, yet there is a considerable lack of consistency up and down the country over the 'No. 12'. As far as Rothmans is concerned there is only one logical interpretation: if a player actually comes on the field, he makes an appearance and this is duly recorded as a substitute appearance. Whether he comes on in the 89th minute and doesn't kick the ball, or comes on in the first minute and scores a hat-trick, it still counts as an appearance in the match. There is no argument against this of course, because a player could get injured in the first minute without touching the ball and take no further part in the proceedings, yet have preference over a substitute in the records.

Purely in order to separate full appearances and substitute appearances we have listed the record of players as in the past as (for example) 14 + 1. Players not making full appearances but turning out as substitute and actually getting on the field of play are listed: 0 + 1.

In every country outside the British Isles, appearances as substitute are included with the full appearances. It would be much easier for us to do the same, but having started with the distinction between full and substitute appearances it would only be doubly confusing to change now. But just bear in mind that substitutes who take the field are very much a part of the game – whatever their actual contribution.

All appearances and goals represent League matches only in the cumulative figures on 'page 4'. As before we are including the League position of each club throughout the season as on the Saturdays shown on 'page 2'.

Players not making full or substitute appearances have been given the notation (—) after their names. Full international players are listed with the country of their honour in brackets underneath their name.

To clear up another point, the names which appear on 'page 4' are in accordance with the retained list as supplied by the clubs to the Football League. This is why some players who may not have played for their club for some considerable time are included. It is simply a matter of whether the player's registration has been retained by the club. An asterisk * denotes players given a free transfer at the end of 1974-75 season.

Line-ups have been checked and re-checked with the clubs and with the Football League and Scottish League. In the case of Scotland, where two substitutes are permitted, the figures 12 and 13 have been used for the players who came on, and suitable notation is given to those who were replaced.

Once again transfer fees, always an area of approximation, and inflated by VAT these days, may differ from the figures published originally in the press, but as ever we have tried to keep them to the figures supplied by clubs.

We are grateful again to the patience and assistance of Club secretaries who were kind enough to supply the relative data. We would particularly like to thank once more those clubs who allowed us to reproduce their badges.

Our final 'copy date' for compiling information was, with a few exceptions, June 1. Thus some additional details concerning transfers, changes of colours, etc., will not have been recorded.

It is hoped that the foregoing will be of assistance not only in following our intention in the Club Section, but also in providing ease of reference.

Derby County, the League Champions, pictured before their last, disappointing, game of the season against Carlisle. Back row (l–r), Dave Mackay (Manager), Roger Davies, Henry Newton, Colin Boulton, Roy McFarland, Alan Hinton, Francis Lee, David Nish, Colin Todd; (front l–r), Rod Thomas, Bruce Rioch, Archie Gemmill, Kevin Hector.

It's there! Alan Taylor turns in triumph after netting West Ham's first goal in the FA Cup final. A few minutes later Taylor, a bargain buy from Rochdale, scored again to clinch the game for the Hammers.

Third time lucky for Ron Saunders (right). After taking Norwich City and Manchester City to League Cup finals in 1973 and 1974 respectively, and losing both times, he was at last to taste success with Aston Villa, although the final was a dull game.

It's the opening day of the season, and against the background of a magnificent new stand Chris Garland bemoans the fact that he's just missed 'a sitter' against Carlisle. Chelsea lost the match 2–0, and thus set the tone of a season which finished with relegation. Little consolation that Carlisle dropped with them!

F.A. CUP 1974-75

For only the second time in its illustrious history, the FA cup produced an all-London final. And if the climax to the season's competition became a little parochial as a result, the build-up nevertheless contained much of the very essence of knock-out football. Altrincham, Wimbledon, Leatherhead, Wycombe Wanderers and Stafford Rangers had carried the flame of non-League hopes and burned the fingers of top-line opposition; while Fulham of the Second Division built a fairytale which only collapsed at the reality of Wembley itself.

Fulham and West Ham United emerged from a tournament in which the guerrilla forces from the outposts of football had regularly outflanked the organised armies of the larger clubs. Wimbledon, for example, won the year's most meritorious victory, a 1-0 sensation in the third round on the ground of First Division front-runners, Burnley – a feat they almost matched by holding Leeds to a goalless draw at Elland Road where Dickie Guy, part-time goalkeeper and full-time tally clerk, strung together a succession of breathtaking saves culminating in the stopping of a Peter Lorimer penalty; only a cruelly deflected own goal brought back Leeds' dignity in the replay.

Leatherhead entered the third round by beating Colchester, then defeated Brighton at the Goldstone Ground by means of a stunning solo goal from striker Chris Kelly, and actually led Leicester 2-0 at Filbert Street before the fates and the Leicester strikers decided that enough was enough. Stafford accounted for Stockport County, Halifax, and Rotherham in an orgy of giant-killing, while Altrincham, encouraged by their first round scalping of Scunthorpe, held Everton to a 1-1 draw at Goodison Park. Wycombe Wanderers came within inches of sending Middlesbrough sliding to defeat down their sloping Loakes Park pitch.

First Division teams dropped like flies in the face of lower grade opponents. Nottingham Forest, inspired by the new presence of Brian Clough, held Spurs at the City Ground and then beat them at White Hart Lane. Aspiring Aston Villa continued their impressive League Cup form by putting four goals past Sheffield United. Walsall brought back memories of their historic win over Arsenal by eliminating Newcastle, having already ended the Cup hopes of Manchester United. But the most devastating destroyers of the upper echelon were Fulham.

The Second Division club, more memorable in recent years for the jokes of their chairman Tommy Trinder and the siting of their ground alongside the Boat Race course on the Thames than for its playing record, suddenly belied its easy-going image. Uplifted by the off-the-field pairing of the ebullient and experienced Alec Stock with the shrewd tactical coaching skills of Bill Taylor, and inspired on the pitch by the eloquent skills of Bobby Moore and Alan Mullery, Fulham stuttered into all-conquering form.

The stutter covered rounds three and four, when they took seven games to put out Second Division rivals Hull City and Nottingham Forest. But the concentrated activity played them into form. Playing relaxed and open football, they unnerved Everton at Goodison, where two goals from Viv Busby, one a tap-in the other a deftly controlled shot on the turn, earned a memorable victory in which the astuteness of their two former England captains played an outstanding part.

A trip to Carlisle, one of the most successful home clubs in the country, seemed scant reward, but Fulham rode the blow. While the much-improved Peter Mellor held firm against a wave of local attacks, a slip by Ross at the other end enabled Barrett to pilfer the decisive goal to take the West London club into the semi-final. There, the introduction of John Mitchell into their attack was to prove too much for further First Division opposition, Birmingham City. The young forward's sweetly struck volley provided a climax to an hour of Fulham domination at Hillsborough before, on the brink of their first final, belief seemed to waver and Gallagher capitalised on the uncertainty to equalise. At Maine Road their chance seemed to have gone as Birmingham revealed their true colours and carried to fight to Moore and his defence. But Fulham survived, and their early round experience of extra time brought fortification; with just nine seconds remaining, Mitchell forced the ball over the line with his shoulders and this time that lack of belief could not be put to the test.

On the same night, West Ham earned their Wembley place at the expense of Ipswich, again after a replay, and if Mitchell was Fulham's hero, the East London club produced their own 'Roy of the Rovers' in 21-year-old Alan Taylor. Signed from Rochdale only in November and only on condition that he was not Cup-tied, Taylor scored twice to beat Ipswich, who had been arguably the better side in both games, and thus emulated a similar two-goal performance in the previous round against Arsenal.

West Ham had won the Cup in 1964 after reaching the final in a run which included wins over Swindon and two London sides. Now they repeated the pattern beating Swindon in the fourth round, Queens Park Rangers in the fifth, and Arsenal in the sixth. John Lyall, West Ham's new manager, had missed that final through injury, but Fulham's lynch-pin, Moore, had lifted the Cup that day as West Ham's captain.

It was a conflict which added spice to the flavour of the final. Moore against so many of his old friends, an unexpected extension of a great career. Similarly Mullery, whose unstinting efforts as Fulham's captain had won him the Footballer of the Year Statuette, was returning to an arena he had graced during his distinguished England days. And on the day Fulham, guided by wisdom beyond the experience of any West Ham player, settled first.

Their accurate passing had been a feature of their play throughout the competition, and it enabled them to find their way around the Wembley pitch at least until they met the rocky route to goal. Though Fulham continually impressed throughout the first half, only a thumping header from the tall Lacy threatened Day's goal. Then early in the second period, Mitchell wriggled clear of Lock and volleyed with power and accuracy only for Day to fashion a brave block. From that point the match turned away from them.

On the hour Holland, preferred to the experienced Gould, robbed Cutbush and made tracks up the left touchline. His short pass found Jennings whose instant left-footed shot could not be held by Mellor; as the ball ran loose Taylor, lurking predatorially for such situations, drove it back through Mellor's legs and in. Within five minutes Holland curved a beautiful pass into the path of Paddon, and as Mellor wastefully dropped the midfield man's shot Taylor arrived on cue to snaffle a second.

Mitchell's persistence made himself another chance but as his shot bounced out off Day's body, Fulham had no Taylor to convert the chance and though Busby might have done better with a header, West Ham dominated the last stretches of the match. As the West Ham fans were traditionally blowing their bubbles, Fulham's had burst.

THE FOOTBALL LEAGUE CUP 1974-75

If some critics' condemnation of Aston Villa's 1975 League Cup win as being 'the worst-ever Wembley final' was somewhat harsh, the competition certainly suffered from the unusual eclipse of First Division contenders. Not even in its formative years had the tournament produced such a freak set of results that not one semi-finalist came from the First Division.

Second Division sides showed a remarkable domination over their more illustrious opponents. Southampton, for example, emerged from a trough in their League form to slaughter Derby County by five goals in the second round, though in Channon, who claimed a hat-trick, and Osgood, another scorer, they possessed players of the very highest calibre. Manchester United, too, recaptured an appetite for First Division opposition which surely would have saved their top-grade status if it had appeared a year earlier. In front of a frenzied 55,000 crowd, a Gerry Daly penalty defeated Manchester City in the third round, a prelude to a fine tie in which Burnley led twice before United, inspired by Macari's initiative, won through. In the fifth round they displayed sufficient resilience at Ayresome Park to earn a draw before adding a third impressive scalp with a three-goal win over Middlesbrough in the replay.

Norwich City, losing finalists two years earlier, proved too strong for Sheffield United of the higher echelons, a brace of goals by young reserve Steve Goodwin settling the replay at Carrow Road. On the same ground in the next round they were held by title challengers Ipswich in a red-blooded East Anglian derby, but the theme of the whole competition was epitomised by the result of the replay – the Second Division side winning with two goals from Miller. An ironic touch, for Miller had been an Ipswich player a matter of weeks earlier.

On their way to the semi-finals, Aston Villa accounted for a succession of Third and Fourth Division sides, but they, too, created one significant upset. Their interest in the competition had waned considerably when Everton shared two goals at Villa Park, but again a replay reflected the paradox of the competition, Villa winning comfortably at Goodison with goals from Morgan, Carrodus, and Graydon.

But no team created more upsets than Chester, the club with historically the worst record in the League; the only one of ninety-two never to have been promoted. But manager Ken Roberts and coach Brian Green had moulded a squad invincible at their compact Sealand Road stadium. Walsall, soon to perform their own giant-killings in the FA Cup, were the first to fall, followed by Second Division contenders Blackpool and Bobby Charlton's Preston. Then the real heads started to roll.

In round four, two goals from a bandit called James and another from the ex-Liverpool defender Storton produced a wholly merited and completely decisive victory over Leeds United. And it was James again who robbed the rich of Newcastle United after Chester's proud defence had earned a goalless draw; so the Fourth Division had a semi-final representative.

But in the first leg the Aston Villa attack did not find the Chester rearguard so impregnable, and both McDonald and Graydon scored. The home side countered through Owen and Moore. With Leonard putting Villa two goals ahead in the second leg Chester's Wembley dreams appeared to have evaporated only for Mason and James to spur a revival. But Leonard, the game's most influential attacker, created a final goal for Little, and even gallant Chester could find no further riposte.

Meanwhile, Manchester United and Norwich were similarly tightly locked in struggle. After Powell had eased Norwich into the lead at Old Trafford, Macari's sixth and seventh goals in the competition tilted the advantage to United, before an atrocious error from a back-pass enabled the much-taunted Ted MacDougall, never a success in Manchester, to send Norwich back to Carrow Road on level terms. There, though United showed the more composure for long stretches of play, a scrambled goal by Suggett was the difference between the two sides.

If there was irony in the part played by MacDougall in the downfall of one of his former clubs, there was considerably more in the pairing of Norwich and Villa in the final. For example, it provided a third successive opportunity for Ron Saunders to manage a League Cup winning side. One year ago he had failed with Manchester City; two years ago his Norwich side had gone down to Tottenham Hotspur. Now, in his first year with the Birmingham club, he had a chance to prove himself a winner against one of his old clubs.

And he certainly had sufficient incentive to do so. Saunders' successor at Carrow Road, John Bond, had spoken out harshly about the standard of the team bequeathed to him by his predecessor; indeed such had been Bond's reconstructing that only Keelan, Forbes, and Stringer of Saunders' Wembley side remained. There was irony, too, for Villa's midfield player Frank Carrodus; in the 1970 final he had been 13th man for Manchester City; in 1974 he had worn number 12 for the same club without getting into Wembley action; now he was selected to wear number eleven for Villa.

Both sides overcame pre-match injury and illness scares to enter the fray at full strength, though Norwich's Machin was to aggravate a thigh injury with his very first kick in a first half in which neither side truly overcame the pressures of the occasion. If Villa were the more settled at the outset, with Little of the astute running and elusive skills their most authoritative player, Norwich earned their share of the play towards the interval with Morris and Suggett directing the midfield traffic.

Neither goalkeeper was in serious difficulty during the opening forty-five minutes, yet so badly did Norwich fall away in the second period that Keelan had little respite while Cumbes whiled away his time fielding back passes. So magnificently did Keelan respond to this pressure that for a long time it seemed that disjointed Norwich would scramble away to a replay they hardly merited.

First, with a spectacular leap, Keelan turned over a header from Hamilton; then a brave save from Little after Graydon and Carrodus had knifed through the Norwich defence, followed by stretch of his foot to divert a Carrodus drive. And when he was beaten, by Hamilton's rasping left-footer, the ball ended in the side-netting.

But the game's critical moment came just ten minutes from time. Keelan had been forced to yet another save, from Robson, when for once his judgement proved faulty as he ventured off his line to meet Hamilton's corner. Nicholl had timed his movements to perfection and his strong header was bound for the far corner until Machin's grasping hands turned the ball around the post.

Keelan's brilliant agility gave one more twist to the drama, as plunging to his right he pushed Graydon's powerful penalty on to the post. But the rebound fell perfectly for the Villa leading scorer and this time even Keelan was helpless as Graydon exultantly swept the ball home. Norwich, hopelessly out of rhythm, desperately created one half chance in the remaining minutes, but Miller's final shot encapsuled Norwich's day, sailing harmlessly over the bar.

Review of the Season

By Alex Cameron, of the Daily Record

Scottish football has emerged unscathed from the trauma of battling for places in a new three-league set-up. The next problem is making the system succeed. Sceptics think this will be difficult, for the ten Premier League teams have to meet four times in the League, and the two other divisions of 14 have to make themselves competitively attractive to the customers. It took umpteen years of abortive efforts to achieve the fresh set-up which, unfairly, Celtic fans feel was specifically designed to curb their team's phenomenal success.

In fact, they lost the League after the scheme was approved by the 37 clubs (Meadowbank were later admitted to make it an even 38) so no such charge is valid.

Rangers won the championship, breaking the startling success of Jock Stein-inspired Celtic after nine splendid world record-equalling years. Seen in total neutrality, it was a good victory for football and was achieved by Rangers on merit, for they beat Celtic in both League matches.

Rangers' drawing power is extraordinary. So is Celtic's, but their fans were becoming blase about success, and their selectivity cut gates at minor matches. This season it will be a totally new ball-game. All 38 clubs will be going hell-for-leather to prove themselves - and make their teams pay at the gates with the lack of interest of commercial firms like Texaco.

Rangers did a super job finishing top. They were driven there by the hard-talking Jock Wallace, one-time jungle fighter, who has little time for the tactical mumbo-jumbo of text-book coaches. Wallace believes that effort, honesty, and loyalty are the basis on which a player's skill has to be founded. In Sandy Jardine he found a ready example. Jardine, at the end of a hard season, was voted by the Scottish Football Writers' Association as the Player of the Year.

Celtic, however, could not be kept out of the reckoning. Having won the League and Dryborough Cups at the start of the season they sagged dramatically after losing to Rangers on January 2.

However, a footballer is as good as his last kick and Celtic finished by beating part-time Airdrie in the Scottish Cup Final. It was a shame for Airdrie, as they failed to make the Top Ten. And yet they were the most successful spare-time team - even though Ally MacLeod's Ayr United made the Premier League. However, there was no doubt Celtic deserved to win the Cup.

Nor, indeed, could it be disputed that after 18 years at the top Billy McNeill deserved to retire with the Cup in one hand and a medal in the other. McNeill has been a credit to Scottish football. Kenny Dalglish, who showed his club form for the first time in the Scottish team in the Home internationals, could very well take over the McNeill role. McNeill has certainly been his mentor. It looks as though he has done a good job in guiding him both on and off the field.

Hibs ended the season with a bright challenge. They were, nevertheless, a disappointment by their own standards. They will hope to make a big impression in Europe in the new season.

It is important for the success of the new set-up that the lesser teams also do well. There will be little point in the league change if Rangers and Celtic merely continue to prosper and the others, from Hibs down, have to struggle to make ends meet. It will be vital for teams like Partick Thistle, Kilmarnock and Airdrie, to make a go of the First Division, and for clubs like Stenhousemuir and Forfar to find customer-interest in the Second Division.

Scottish football is at a crossroads this season. They must revitalise interest, and a good run in Europe will help to achieve this. More clubs have turned to part-time football but this is out of realism rather than downright pessimism.

Scottish players must realise they have to fight to gain the support of the fans or the game on this side of the border will drastically curtail itself without actually going out of business. The road to 1976 has to be smoothed.

Scottish Stars of the Past

BAXTER, Jim (1939–) Raith Rovers, Rangers, Sunderland, Nottingham Forest, Rangers, and Scotland. Elegant midfield player with a superb left foot. His genius on the field was never matched by his controversial behaviour off it. Forest paid Sunderland £100,000 for him in 1967, eighteen months and 48 games later, he left on a 'free transfer'. In retrospect, his career never really recovered from the moment he broke a leg playing for Rangers in 1964. He won 34 caps, and scored both goals in Scotland's Wembley win in 1963. Made 347 Scottish and Football League appearances.

BUSBY, Sir Matt (1910–) Manchester City, Liverpool, and Scotland. A distinguished wing-half whose playing feats have nevertheless paled in comparison with his managerial achievements at Manchester United. He won a Cup winners' medal in 1934, the same year he gained his only Scottish cap. Made 317 League appearances. Under his management, United triumphed in five League Championships, two F.A. Cups, and the European Cup. He was knighted in 1968 and the following January retired after 23 years in charge. Now a director at Old Trafford.

EVANS, Bobby (1928–) Celtic, Chelsea, Newport County, Morton, Third Lanark, Raith Rovers, and Scotland. First at right-half then at the centre of the defence, Evans, red-haired and forceful, won 48 caps. In a 16 year career at Celtic, he won League, League Cup, and Cup honours throughout the fifties. Moved to Chelsea and then had seven seasons with lesser clubs before retirement in 1968.

JACKSON, Alec (1905–1946) Aberdeen, Huddersfield Town, Chelsea, and Scotland. Gifted winger whose hat-trick at Wembley in 1928 spearheaded the success of the Wembley Wizards. His pace and opportunism made an immediate impression in English football, and he won a Championship medal in his first year at Huddersfield. He played in their losing sides at Wembley in 1928 and 1930. Left Chelsea after a dispute and went out of League football at 21. Killed in a road crash in North Africa. Made 378 League appearances, scoring 100 goals.

JAMES, Alex (1902–1953) Raith Rovers, Preston North End, Arsenal, and Scotland. Diminutive inside forward of classic stature. His two-goal display in the Wembley Wizards match established a reputation that preceded him to Arsenal in 1929. There, he master-minded success after success in the 'Chapman' years with his incomparable passing and bewildering ability on the ball, despite being severely kicked in every match he played. Prejudice against 'Anglos' meant that he won only eight Scottish caps. 478 Football and Scottish League games, 106 goals.

LIDDELL, Billy (1922–) Liverpool and Scotland. Direct forward of great physical power who became Liverpool's greatest idol. Aggressive but always fair, he played a record 492 League games for the club, scoring 216 goals. Played for Great Britain in 1947 and 1955 (Matthews was the only other player to do so). Capped 28 times. Combined his playing career with accountancy, and also served as a J.P.

MACKAY, Dave (1936–) Hearts, Tottenham Hotspur, Derby County, Swindon Town, and Scotland. Wing-half and later centre-back of legendary courage and determination who twice suffered a broken leg, but recovered gamely on both occasions. With Hearts and Spurs, he won every honour in the game before moving to Derby in 1968. There his commanding presence immediately lifted County into the First Division, where he continued to dominate match after match despite his advancing years. Later manager of Swindon Town, Nottingham Forest, and now Derby County. 341 League games and 22 caps.

MORTON, Alan (1896–1971) Queen's Park, Rangers, and Scotland. A winger only 5ft 4in. tall and nicknamed the 'Wee Blue Devil', Morton was the highest paid player of his day. Totally elusive, but always direct and alive to the needs of his team, he was a master crosser of the ball. His crosses led to all three of Alex Jackson's goals in the Wembley Wizards match. In an international career from 1920 to 1932 he missed only one game, winning 31 caps. Made around 500 Scottish League appearances and won nine Championship medals.

SHANKLY, Bill (1915–) Carlisle United, Preston North End, and Scotland. Superbly fit and wholly dedicated wing-half who brought the same qualities to bear in a distinguished managerial career. Won a Cup medal in 1938. Made 312 League appearances and won five caps just before the war. Learned the job of manager at Carlisle, Grimsby, Workington, and Huddersfield before joining Liverpool in 1959. At Anfield his relentless drive and enthusiasm have fashioned three League Championship winning sides and a club that has rarely been out of the running for honours.

YOUNG, George (1922–) Rangers and Scotland. Massive defender who despite his six-foot, 15-stone frame had the balance and nimbleness of a much smaller man. Regular at either right-back or centre-half for Scotland, he won 53 caps, many of them as Captain. Made 293 League appearances for Rangers, winning six League Championship, four Cup, and two League Cup medals. Later managed Third Lanark and Scotland.

IRISH AND WELSH FOOTBALL

Review of the season in Northern Ireland

Honours lists and all the important statistics for Northern Ireland and Wales

Irish Football 1974-75

By Malcolm Brodie

At last there was light at the end of the tunnel. After five years of darkness and adversity created by civil unrest, Irish football emerged again on the world scene with the isolation barrier broken by the return of international football to Windsor Park, Belfast.

England restarted the ball when they played a European championship game in April and appropriately, Northern Ireland came on with a 1-0 victory. England were the next visitors on May 17, a magnificent Saturday of sunshine and for security reasons they flew in and out within seven hours. A crowd of 37,000 saw Northern Ireland draw 0-0 and then came Wales, who had been the first British country to agree to make the Belfast journey. They lost 1-0 and came again, lunched with the wooden spoon.

A season of disappointment and joy. Disappointment in losing 2-1 to the amateurs of Norway in Oslo, joy in the 2-0 victory over Sweden at Stockholm which, with the triumph against the Swiss, puts Northern Ireland on a highly satisfactory point at the top of their European Group, particularly with the two matches against Norway and Sweden and the crucial game at Belgrade next November.

Terry Neill, a surprise choice as the Tottenham Hotspur manager to succeed to the legendary Bill Nicholson, had to relinquish the Northern Ireland manager's ship due to the commitments of his relegation battered club. Dave Clements (Everton) took over as player-manager - first for the Yugoslav game and then the British series, his impact was decisive, his impetus unspoiled, his acceptance universal. Indeed Clements, as did Neill, has established a norm in the Irish side which is the envy of other countries.

Like his managerial predecessors, however, Clements found a penalty of scoring for nations but the inclusion of Derek Spence from the comparative obscurity of Third Division duty wrought a modest stroke. He was effervescent, effective, and circumstantially the most promising striker to wear the green jersey for many years.

Unfortunately, it was not a domestic season to be remembered. Set rather one perturbed by internecine strife at certain clubs with the dismay that a controversial choice of final arena as the venue for the Limavady Coleraine Irish Cup Final. Linfield management committee members protested that it was inadequate for such a prestige occasion, boycotted the Final, but attended the two replays.

In Europe two Irish League clubs found they did not measure up with Coleraine and Ards losing heavily to Feyenoord and Hajduk respectively. Portadown, however, succeeded in reaching the second round of the UEFA Cup after a victory against Valur of Iceland, but then they crashed against Partizan Belgrade (aggregate 11-1).

Northern Ireland's youth team, managed by Tommy Casey (Grimsby Town), performed well in the European championship in Switzerland, with a victory over the Republic of Ireland and a draw against Switzerland, but they lost to England, the eventual winners. Here again there were problems as two players - Bobby Campbell (Aston Villa) and Bernie McMinn (Coleraine) - were ordered home as a disciplinary measure; they had been involved in a car crash near their hotel.

There are indications that the future is facing with uncertainties increasing, but the strongest economies must be exercised by clubs, most of whom are keeping solvent by a large cash injection from flourishing social centres.

Happy days are here again... well almost. Such euphoria is a fragile thing, easily swept away like the mounting chaos by the caprices of terrorism, or shade of which football wants no part. Still, a start has been made.

The other four games were all won by the odd goal, Aston Villa scoring the first 'own goal' in the League when Wanderers' Sutcliffe put the ball through his own goal.

Huddersfield Town became the first team to complete a hat-trick of League Championships — 1924–25–26.

Floodlights were first switched on during an international match at Everton on November 1958 at Wembley — England v Spain.

The 'cage' was replaced by the 'spring' in 1875, and the whole was made 'to fit comfort' by the end of 1874. Goalnets were invented and patented by J.A. Brodie of Liverpool in 1890, and were first used in the F.A. Cup Final in 1892.

SOME OTHER RECORDS

The oldest player ever to appear in the Football League was Neil Mcliam who played in goal for New Brighton v Hartlepools United, Division 4(N), March 15 1947. He was then aged 52 years 4 months.

The oldest player ever to appear for any of the home countries in a full international was Billy Meredith (Manchester City and Wales) who was 45 years 229 days when he played for Wales v England, March 15 1920.

The record for most appearances in the Scottish League is one that season's target over 30 years of age was created by Bob McGrory in 1934–35 when he appeared in all 42 First Division games. Bob was then 43 years of age.

The record for most consecutive appearances in the Football League was created by Graham Bell, Doncaster Rovers centre-half. Commencing with the opening game of season 1946–47 Bell did not miss a single game until August 1954 – a run of 401 consecutive League and 459 matches including F.A. The greatest player ever to appear in the Football League is probably Fred Pentland who, for only 5 ft tall, was played for Preston 1900–10, Watford 1921–22, and Clapton Orient 1932–35. The tallest was Albert Iremonger, Notts County and Lincoln City goalkeeper 1906–27. He was 6 ft 5 in tall.

The longest F.A. Cup tie was that in the 4th qualifying round between Alvechurch and Oxford City in 1971. This needed 11 hours 40 minutes before Oxford City won 5–0.

The longest match ever played to a result in League football was that between Stockport County and Doncaster Rovers, March 26 1936 in an effort to reach a decisive result in this Third Division (N) cup tie continued for 2×5 minutes before bad light forced its abandonment.

Rochdale conceded 14 goals in a match away to Oldham Athletic (8) in 1931–32. This is a Football League record. After beating New Brighton 4–2 on November 2 1931, they did not get another home point until holding Barrow 0–0 on a goalless draw in their second home game of season 1932–33. During that home period Rochdale suffered one run of 17 consecutive defeats (home and away) – also a Football League record.

In season 1907–08 Bristol City won 34 consecutive First Division games. This Football League record was equalled by Preston North End in Division 1 in 1950–51.

The Scottish League record for the longest run of consecutive victories was created by Motherwell in Division 2 in 1963–64 when they won 21 games in a row.

Leeds United were undefeated in a run of 34 First Division games, October 1968 to August 1969. This is a Football League record.

The longest run without defeat in a single season of Football League games is one of 30 matches by Burnley in Division 1 in 1920–21.

In the Scottish League Celtic created a record by remaining unbeaten in a run of 62 games – November 1915 to April 1917.

Sheffield Wednesday hold the record for the longest run of consecutive F.A. Cup ties without defeat. From December 1, 1883 to December 1886 they were unbeaten in 24 Cup ties and won the Cup on three occasions during this period.

The only player to score two goals in each side in a Football League game was Sam Wynne. In Division 2, October 6 1923 he scored with a free kick and a penalty for Oldham Athletic, but put through his own goal for Manchester United.

Arthur Chandler scored in each of 16 consecutive Football League matches for Leicester City in Division 1 during season 1924–25. This is a League record.

Jimmy Cookson was the player who matched a feat formerly of Football League goals in the space of time. He made his debut for Chesterfield on 1925 and recorded his century by December 1927 with Aston Brownlow's Aston Villa, drawing to his 47th Football League goal.

The record number of goals scored by a player making his Football League debut is three – by George Hilsdon for Chelsea v Glossop, Division 2, September 1 1906.

The record for scoring the fastest goal in a Football League game is 11 seconds, by Jim Fleeting, playing for Bolton Wanderers v Blackpool, Division 2, September 3 1960. Fleeting's goal was timed by referee Mr. W. J. Mullan from a position on the touchline. Fleeting's record was beaten after the kick-off, April 25 1964.

The fastest goals scored in the F.A. Cup Final at Wembley were obtained in the first minute in 1948 by John Rowley of Manchester United v Blackpool and in the second half by Jimmy Logie of Arsenal v Liverpool in 1950. Rowley's shot went in between Joe Wilson's legs and Logie's shot was the best of the net, and in 1955 Jackie Milburn, Newcastle United, scored a first-minute header over Manchester City.

John Aldridge scored four goals in five minutes for Bloxham, Rovers v Everton, Division 1, September 16 1987.

W. G. Richardson also scored four goals in five minutes for West Bromwich Albion, Division 1, September 7 1935, but this was even more remarkable because the first was scored in an away game – against West Ham United.

The record number of penalties missed by one side in a Football League Division 1 game is three, Manchester City v Preston 2-6, 17 December 1960. The opposition were the unlucky ones against Newcastle United, January 31 1948.

The most penalties scored by a player in a Football League game is four – Steve Whitworth for Aston Villa v Bradford City, November 21 1925; Charlie Mitten for Manchester United v Aston Villa, March 8 1950; and Ted Phillips for Manchester City v Everton, December 7 1948.

The record number of players from the same club in an England team is seven. Frank Moss, George Male, Eddie Hapgood, Wilf Copping, Raymond Bowden, Ted Drake and Clifford Britton all played against Italy at Highbury, November 14 1934.

The England team to play twice in Scotland with Corinthian players in the 1870s (at this period an international record because the Corinthians were a combined team, most of their players also appearing with other clubs.

In season 1925–26 Cardiff City created a Football League record by winning seven away matches in consecutive weeks. These were 2 Wednesday, 4 Chelsea, 2 Bolton, 3 Leeds, 4 Sheffield United, 3 Manchester City and 6 Bury.

The England team that won the 1966 World Cup created a record for the competition by conceding no goals in five consecutive games – five matches that count in the final total of the World Cup but they played three games.

England's longest run without defeat is a total of 29 games – between 1978 and 1980.

The largest championship winning margin for any division of the Football League is 15 points. Manchester Utd in Division One, 1907–08 and Preston North End in Division Two, 1888–89.

The smallest number of points to secure promotion from a post-war season of Football League matches is 54 by Leeds United when winning the Championship in 1963–64. Four of their games were postponed.

In the Scottish League, Dundee United gained promotion to the First Division in season 1982–83 with 54 points.

The goalscoring record for a championship season is 106 goals by Tranmere Rovers in 1937–38 (a record set up in 1923–24 by Arsenal, Liverpool and Manchester Utd in Division 2 [3] games that season scored 106 goals, 4 more than Rovers).

Five men have been capped by 4 managed Football League Clubs: Joe Mercer, Arsenal, Aston Villa, Manchester City, Sheffield Utd; Jimmy Hagan, Sheffield Utd, Sheffield Wednesday, Mansfield Town, Lincoln City; Ted Drake, Arsenal, Chelsea, Southampton; Jack Rowley, Manchester Utd, Plymouth Argyle, Bury, Preston North End; Don Revie, Hull City, Leeds Utd, Manchester City, Leicester City.

Joe Mercer, England, 1938–54, 5 caps – manager, 1946–49 Arsenal, 1954–56 Aston Villa, 1965–71 Manchester City, 1977–78 Coventry City.

Jimmy Hagan, England, 1947–48, 3 caps – manager, 1950–51 Sheffield Utd, 1958–60 Sheffield Wednesday, 1962–63 Mansfield Town, 1964–65 Lincoln City.

Ted Drake, England, 1935–39, 6 caps – manager, 1952–53 Arsenal, 1961–62 Chelsea, 1966–67 Southampton.

Jack Rowley, England, 1946–52, 6 caps – manager, 1955–56 Plymouth Argyle, 1958–59 Bury, 1961–62 Preston North End.

Don Revie, England, 1938–54, 7 caps – manager, 1961–62 Hull City, 1962–74 Leeds Utd, 1974–77 Manchester City, 1977–78 Leicester City.

Derby County, manager, 1967–73.

In 1973–74 Leeds United created a Football League record for the greatest ever without defeat (twenty-nine) at the start of a season – 29 First Division games before losing 2–1 at Stoke. It would be good that this year emerged Liverpool's run in the Second Division of 31 in 1893–94 when they were promoted to the First Division. Their 29th game that season was the extra "Test Match" to decide promotion and relegation between the First and Second Divisions.

Qualification: By invitation to teams from England and Scotland, who are not in European club competitions.

ALL TIME LEAGUE TABLES

Compiled by Jonathan Rice

27,861 people at St Andrews on the night of August 20 1974 saw Leicester City beat Birmingham City 4-3 in a very entertaining start to the season – for Leicester fans anyway. At least 27,850 of those present probably had no idea that Leicester's third goal was their 2000th in Division 1, and that in scoring it they joined their opponents Birmingham as the only clubs in League history to score 2000 goals in each of two divisions. Leicester had already conceded 2000 goals in two divisions: a distinction they share with Nottingham Forest. And did you know that when Manchester United beat Sunderland at Old Trafford last season, they not only denied Sunderland's hopes of promotion, they also inflicted on them their 1000th defeat in their League history? It is facts like these which make the All Time Tables fascinating, even if they have nothing to do with current form.

The First Division All Time League Table still shows Everton as Champion of Champions. Since the table was last printed in Rothman's Football Yearbook two years ago, Everton have stretched their lead at the top of the table from 200 to 300 points, and Arsenal and Liverpool have both overtaken Sunderland. Sunderland, who are now in 20th place, were top of the table in 1958. Two years ago, Liverpool were 31 points behind Arsenal, but now they have cut that lead back to only 4 points. In fact, had Aston Villa not won promotion at the end of last season, there would have been a strong possibility of the two Merseyside clubs taking the top two positions in the Champion of Champions table by 1976–77. Arsenal still hold the record for taking the highest percentage of points available to them in Division One – 54·5%, to Liverpool's 54·4%. Aston Villa, Manchester United, and Leeds United also beat Everton on that basis.

In 1974–75, Liverpool and Arsenal both gained their 1000th victory in Division One, Manchester City and Middlesbrough both suffered their 1000th defeat in League football, and Tottenham's 33rd goal of the season (one of their 5 against Newcastle at St James's Park in January) was their 4000th League goal. Everton's 9th goal of the 1975–76 campaign will be their 5000th in the League. Only Aston Villa (5285) and Wolverhampton Wanderers (5163) have scored more. Not that Villa and Wolves fans are the only Midlands supporters to get lots of goals. Derby County need only 24 more for their 3000, while Leicester have been involved in more goals per match (rather more against them than for them, unfortunately) than any other current First Division club. Nevertheless, the goals are disappearing rapidly everywhere. Over the 76 seasons of League football, an average of 3·1 goals have been scored in each match. Last season, that average was down to 2·5 goals.

In 1975–76, Everton should win their 3000th First Division point, and Burnley their 2000th, Arsenal will score their 4000th goal, Leeds United might score their 2000th. Leeds, despite their years of recent success, are still only in 23rd position overall, with no immediate hopes of climbing higher. The 22 teams above them, the 'All Time First Division', so to speak, have all appeared in the First Division for at least half the seasons of the League's existence. Leeds will not be able to claim that distinction before 1993 at the earliest.

The All Time Second Division Table is obviously not such a reliable guide to the best teams as the First Division Table. Most points does not automatically mean best below Division One. Arsenal, for example, who languish in 53rd place between Glossop North End and Gainsborough Trinity, have clearly been a stronger side over the years than, say, Lincoln City in 22nd place, who have failed to gain re-election on three separate occasions. Historically the strongest Second Division teams are Liverpool, Chelsea, and Manchester City, who are the only teams to gain over 60% of the points available to them in their time in Division II. Nevertheless, two of the three top teams in the Second Division table, Hull City and Barnsley, have never reached the First Division. Hull City will overtake Leicester City in 1975–76 to take over as the top Second Division team of all time, while Cup finalists Fulham should also go past Leicester into second place. Further down the table, Sunderland, who were overtaken by Arsenal and Liverpool in the First Division, overhauled Arsenal and look set to get past Liverpool by the end of the season ahead. Small compensation, perhaps, for missing promotion yet again.

Last season's big statistical event in Division II was Notts County's 3000th League game, against Nottingham Forest on March 25 1975. Notts County are the first club to reach the 3000 game milestone, and by a happy coincidence the point they gained in that match was their 1000th in Division Two. Next season, Blackburn Rovers (on their 3001st game) and Preston North End (in their 4478th) will clock up 3000 League games in all Divisions.

AFC Bournemouth's record in the Third Division is remarkable. Despite the fact that teams shoot in and out of Division III at the rate of seven a year, so that 75 teams have played in the Division since 1958, Bournemouth have gained almost 100 more points than any other team, and even 19 more points in one less season than Chester at the head of Division Four. Despite this impressive achievement, Bournemouth and the second club, Shrewsbury Town, have never been promoted to Division Two, and Bournemouth take Shrewsbury's place in Division Four for 1975–76. On form, Portsmouth are Division Three's top team, having captured over 70% of the points available to them in their one season down.

Last season, Port Vale lost their 3000th League match, to join Barnsley, Orient and Stoke City as the only clubs who have lost 3000 games without winning 1000. In 1975–76, they are likely to be joined by Bradford City (2997 losses) and Walsall (2961 losses), although Stoke (3058 wins) and Barnsley (3053 wins) will probably clock up their 3000th victory before the season is over. At the other end of the scale, only Liverpool, Arsenal, Manchester United and Bristol City have won 3000 matches without losing 1000. Tottenham Hotspur's fifth victory of 1975–76 will elevate them into the list.

The regional divisions have been disbanded, so that Brighton and Wrexham are in no danger of being knocked off their pedestals. Brighton's achievement is perhaps even greater than Wrexham's, as the standard in the Southern Section was probably higher than in the Northern, as a glance at the careers of Walsall (poor in III(N)), terrible in III(S)) or Mansfield Town will show. Brighton's record in Division III (South) is a powerful argument against a restricted promotion and relegation system, as is Plymouth Argyle's. Plymouth won over half the games they played in Division III (South), and yet missed promotion by one place for six seasons in a row in the 1970s.

The Fourth Division Table, with Darlington, Exeter City and Crewe Alexandra all poised to overtake both Aldershot and Chester, is likely to undergo a thorough shake-up in 1975–76, although new boys Huddersfield's contribution will probably be small. Huddersfield have become the tenth League club to play in all four of today's divisions. Coventry City and Grimsby Town share an added distinction, however. They have played in all four current divisions and both the regional Third Divisions.

Following a football team can be eventful, as it is for Notts County fans who have seen 17 promotions and relegations at Meadow Lane, or almost dull. West Ham's supporters have seen just two promotions and one relegation in 49 seasons, and never have West Ham had even a sniff at the League Championship. I suppose winning the Cup gives them all the excitement they need, and for people whose team does not win the Cup or even the League very often, we hope that the All Time League Tables will add a bit of interest to the 1975–76 season.

However, as only Grimsby Town of the clubs playing in 1920–21 were from the north, for statistical purposes the 1920–21 results have been counted in with the Southern section results for the following 30 seasons.

International Review of the Season

Don Revie, who was appointed successor to Sir Alf Ramsey amidst the summer excitement of the 1974 World Cup, promised a year of experimentation in which results might have to take second place to the long term good of the national team. But though England stumbled but pick throughout the eight international games of the season, Revie's squad escaped defeat if not always criticism.

The considerably easier outward half of their European Championship qualifying fixtures was completed almost without mishap, a haul of seven points out of a possible eight. In Revie's baptismal match, England struggled for an hour to make any impression against Czechoslovakia before the first noticeable difference in attitude between the new manager and his predecessor became apparent. Ramsey had always preferred to keep faith in his original selections when matches became difficult, but Revie ruthlessly introduced two substitutes into the action, Thomas and Brooking, and within minutes those two players had created a quick free kick which ended in Channon heading in Thomas's cross. The wound open, Bell twice made further inroads to enthrall the Czechs.

But three weeks later no auxiliary forces could inspire an England performance which lacked scholars and goals against a Portugal side that arrived at Wembley with the humblest of reputations. With Channon, the closest approximation to a world class forward, being slowly blunted by Second Division football, the England of Revie seemed no nearer finishing reliable routes to goal than that of Ramsey. The goalless draw sadly diverted some of the gusto the former Leeds manager had generated by introducing to Wembley a spectacular pre-match rendering of 'Land of Hope and Glory' and a new strip, of radical design, but which nevertheless emphasised the traditional colours of red, white, and blue.

Another radical change came in March when Alan Ball, the last survivor from 1966, was appointed captain in place of Emlyn Hughes. Ultra-competitive and never at a loss for an inspiring comment on the field, Ball (then 29) was a choice neither for diplomacy nor for the long term future. But he was the perfect selection for the friendly international against West Germany, his long-time adversaries. The World Champions fielded only five of the side that beat Holland in Munich, and were well beaten by goals from Bell and Macdonald, the Newcastle striker's first international score, but the most impressive England player on a sodden pitch proved to be the Stoke midfield player Alan Hudson, whose skills had never been as questioned as his temperament.

Macdonald provided the scoring achievement of the international year when he scored all five goals in the home European Championship tie against Cyprus, the first England player to do so since Willie Hall against Ireland in 1938. But the return in Limassol, put back from February because of the civil strife on the island, proved less happy for both Macdonald and his colleagues. Keegan's early goal was the only score, and Fleet Street unanimously described the overall performance on a bumpy pitch as 'rubbish'.

Revie could have hardly been blamed for picking Scotland to win the Home International Championship a fact followed hard on that lacklustre performance, and his side did not prosper on a second successive visit to a trouble spot - the first trip to Belfast for four years. Those who had shrunk in the favourable conditions at Wembley contributed less away from home and the scoreless draw reflected a lack of genuine class on both sides.

Continuing his experimental theme, Revie made five changes for the midweek game against Wales, including the dropping of Keegan, among the better performers in Ireland. The Liverpool forward took such umbrage at the decision that he walked out on the squad, and did not watch the 2-2 draw in which Ipswich's Johnson scored twice in his first international. Unlike Bowles, the prodigal in Joe Mercer's squad a year earlier, Keegan received immediate forgiveness and returned to the fold and a place in the team against Scotland. The fathering Revie had shown similar consideration earlier in the season when Kevin Beattie failed to report for an Under-23 fixture, generosity which though open to the risk of abuse appeared to enhance his stature with his squad.

For both Keegan and Revie the episode had the happiest of endings. England's attack moved into overdrive against Scotland at Wembley, and aided by an inept performance from Kennedy, the Rangers goalkeeper who had been faultless in his earlier internationals, they scored nine times. Four, six shots at goal, Gary Francis, who appeared to have been superseded by Hudson in the midfield setting, ended with two goals and two assists to his credit from a splendid and varied performance. If the scoreline created instant euphoria, Revie immediately offered a sense of perspective by declaring that his season's work had taken him just twenty-five per cent of the way to a squad for the challenge of Argentina in 1978; in the year he had tapped ten new internationals, and without a summer tour, he added continuity to his preparations by calling up thirty-five players for a five-day summer school in June.

Though England then won the Home International Championship outright, and Wales, for the fourth successive year, finished second, it was the latter team which arguably achieved the season's best result. Also under new management – Dave Bowen gave way to an Englishman, the former Corinthian Casuals amateur Mike Smith – Wales' form in European competition was improved. After losing narrowly to Austria in the Prater Stadium, they comfortably beat Hungary and Luxembourg at home, but these achievements paled against their victory in Budapest. Hungary's first defeat at home before a competitive international; another win, in Luxembourg, put them on the brink of a quarter-final place in the European Championship.

Ironically, Smith's amateur background yielded a more professional approach to the squad, though much also consisted of a high proportion of regular First Division players, an unusual luxury for the principality, and in Toshack, McFarland, Jones, and Thomas they had outstanding performers in each company. Others, like Davies from Everton, featured during the experiment while the veteran midfield player Ivor Allchurch, Arfon Griffiths, began an international career with such panache that he ended the season having scored in no fewer than four games.

One of his goals came at Wembley where, as at Nou Camp against Scotland, the inclusion of Wales' small wizard became imperative; they lost in both matches and so he caught, though the goal scored by the midfielder Brian Flynn of Burnley against Scotland after a bewildering series of interchanges reminded the outstanding score of the tournament. Sadly they reserved their world display for their last international of the year, against Ireland in Belfast, and their embarrassment defeat left them once more on the bottom rung of the ladder.

For Northern Ireland it was not so much a case of how but where they played. For after three and a half years the internal disputes in the province subsided to allow international football to return to Windsor Park. Defeat in Norway in their opening European Championship fixture was allayed somewhat by a creditable win in Sweden over a side which had excelled in the World Cup, before in April Yugoslavia agreed to play in Belfast. The occasion itself was victory enough for the Irish, and the goal from Hamilton which brought two precious points proved just a bonus. The Belfast people responded with genuine warmth not just to their own players, now led by player-manager Dave Clements in succession to Terry Neill, but to those who crossed the political barriers, the Yugoslavs and later the Englishand the Welsh. In none of the three games was there the slightest threat to security.

Willie Ormond was the only manager to survive from the previous season, and he must have felt that Scotland, from their brave World Cup showing, would prove Britain's best equipped challengers for the European Championship, as well as being favourites to win the Home International Championship. In neither competition did the promise yield to fulfilment. Their best European results came in two friendly wins at Hampden against East Germany and Portugal and they picked up just two points from their first three Championship matches; the home defeat by Spain after nineteen minutes a penalty being the real jar to their hopes.

Scotland's challenge for the Home International Championship was hit by the lack of availability of their Leeds' contingent, though a patchwork team performed creditably to draw in Cardiff and emphatically beat Northern Ireland at Hampden. There they ran into more trouble, an in-form England dismissed as out-of-form Kennedy at Wembley, and Ormond faced a succession of player problems. Archie earned his cap on the squad in a fit of pique, and neither Bruce nor Jordan responded to the second after the European Cup final for the critical third European Championship tie.

Though Cremmer's replacement as centre-forward, McQueen, scored to earn a late draw, the result spoke of Scotland's chances of a quarter-final place, and Ormond was left to reflect that though he started the year with the most unified squad of the four home countries, three new national managers had gone a long way towards overtaking him.

England went through Don Revie's first season as manager without being beaten, and their programme included a victory against World Champions West Germany. Highlight of the season was, however, the 5–1 thrashing of Scotland at Wembley. Here Gerry Francis celebrates his second and England's fourth goal.

Happier days for Manchester United. Here Stuart Pearson gets in a powerful header in the centre of the defence against Fulham, and his face reflects the determination which lifted United back to the First Division.

The European Cup final, and Leeds are runners-up once again. Here Sepp Maier, the Bayern Munich goalkeeper whom many people didn't rate very highly, makes a clean save under pressure from Allan Clarke. Maier's faultless performance was a key factor in Bayern's victory.

At long last Alan Mullery (left) was made Footballer of the Year. Two days after the presentation, Alan skippered Fulham in the FA Cup final, and is seen here in a tussle with rival captain Billy Bonds of West Ham. Though Fulham lost, Mullery had a fine game.

World Club Championship and European Super Cup

EUROPEAN REVIEW

by Leslie Vernon

The West German domination of European football continues. Having won the European Championship in 1972 and the world crown last summer, at club level, Bayern Munich held on to the Champions Cup, and Borussia Moenchengladbach grabbed the UEFA Cup with a stunning 5-1 away win at Enschede, Holland. The third major prize, the Cup-Winners' Cup, went to Russia for the very first time, when Dynamo Kiev pulverised Ferencvaros of Hungary in Basle. So, once again, Britain drew a blank, and Latin football couldn't escape from its embarrassing mediocrity.

But behind these simple statistics lies the story of an international campaign full of rich promise for the very near future. Yes, I dare to be optimistic despite that caricature of a European Cup Final. I believe that this Bayern v Leeds travesty will act as a watershed, the last refuge of the anti-football scoundrels. 'Total football', a form of tactical revolution which I advocated in this publication last year, carries in its philosophy, if misinterpreted, seeds of sterility. Possession can become more important than scoring goals, and it is then a cardinal sin to give the ball away. The Paris fiasco was a perfect demonstration of the two-sided coin of 'possession football'. If it is used indiscriminately as a shield of self-defence, it becomes a bore. But if it is exploited skillfully and played with imagination, then it is an attractive ingredient of the overall style.

Bayern, influenced by the various happenings of a humiliating League season, decided to 'play safe' against the over-praised British challengers. This cautious stance became even more pronounced when the Germans lost full-back Bjorn Andersson following a tackle by Terry Yorath. Later, Uli Hoeness, their potentially world-class striker, had to go off. According to Bill Nicholson - a shrewd and always scrupulously honest observer of any game - the Germans played without a single forward in the first forty-five minutes. But as substitutes Sepp Weiss and Klaus Wunder gradually ingratiated themselves into the team's pattern, Bayern regained their self-respect and were deadly on the counter-attack. From two such moves, Franz Roth and the mercurial Gerd Muller scored the goals with clinical accuracy, which was a marked contrast to the lumbering attempts of the Leeds' forwards. Bayern, despite their timid tactics, ultimately deserved their triumph. They did have an excellent goalkeeper, an incomparable sweeper in the much-maligned Franz Beckenbauer, and they were able to change the rhythm of their generally soporific game.

Leeds went into this vital game in the wrong frame of mind. All their previous failures in one-match finals (Sunderland, Milan) were suddenly forgotten, and they behaved as though beating Bayern was a mere formality. Arguments, days before the match, whether or not their former manager Don Revie should be invited to the victory(!) banquet, typified their arrogance. The abuse hurled at Sepp Maier was also quite extraordinary. Here was a goalkeeper who had played 62 times for his country and won the greatest honours in the game (World Cup, European Championship, European Cup etc.) But the Leeds' players, with the help of an ill-informed section of the Press and TV pundits, over-confidently forecast that Maier would hand the Cup to them on a plate!

Unfortunately, Jimmy Armfield's team didn't play well. The central defenders (Paul Madeley, Norman Hunter) were pulled out of position (when are we going to play with a sweeper?) quite easily, both Billy Bremner and Johnny Giles were too slow and short of invention, and the tough Georg Schwarzenbeck was too experienced for the bustling Joe Jordan.

It must be pointed out that the referee Michel Kitabjian was partly responsible for this disappointing night. From where I was sitting, Leeds should have had a penalty when Beckenbauer brought down Allan Clarke, and the disallowed Peter Lorimer rocket demonstrated the idiocy of the laws relating to off-side.

Earlier in the campaign, Leeds' victory over Barcelona was the highlight of the competition. The Catalans spent a fortune in employing the best coach (Michels) and expensive foreign stars (Cruyff, Neeskens, Heredia, Marinho) in order to win this Cup. They put all their eggs in the European basket, and were never in contention for the Spanish League title. When Asensi equalised at Elland Road, I felt that 'Barca' must eventually win this semi-final battle. But the Spaniards, inexplicably relaxed, and Clarke snapped up a chance to give Leeds a narrow win. Once Lorimer scored, Leeds were always in the driving seat at Barcelona, and only the stupidity of Gordon McQueen put the visitors in danger of defeat.

Bayern had a much easier run-up to the final, beating Magdeburg, Ararat Erevan and St. Etienne. Barcelona's 3-0 win over Feyenoord is also worth a mention, and one can safely say that apart from the dreadful climax (did you like the play Mrs. Lincoln?), it has been a moderately enjoyable European Cup tournament.

I can be much more enthusiastic about the Cup-Winners' Cup. An excellent competition climaxed in a great final. In Basle, we saw a Dynamo Kiev side which could take over from Bayern as top dogs in Europe. Their all-purpose, fluent, ultra-modern football started from the back, where the elegant Fomenko controlled the game with the minimum of fuss. Their beautifully balanced, powerful middle line, with Muntian back at his considerable best, and the Onishenko-Blokhin spearhead eager and inventive, complete a team without a single weakness. In contrast to the senior final, this match was played without malice, in a sporting atmosphere.

Ferencvaros, below strength due to suspension and injuries, were never in the hunt, but they must have been pleased with the runners up medals – the first for a Hungarian club in this competition for eleven years. On their way to the Final, the green-and-whites k.o'd Liverpool on the away goals ruling. Ironically, Janos Mate scored at Anfield in the extra minutes added-on for time-wasting by the Hungarians.

Two other English clubs, Stoke and Ipswich, suffered the same fate as Liverpool. They went out of the UEFA Cup through this unrealistic and illogical device. If the original intention of giving goals scored on opponents' grounds increased value was to encourage attacking football, the idea has misfired. Nowadays, even the home teams play more cautiously, because they know that they must not concede a goal which might cost them the tie. In my view, this whole concept needs urgent re-examination.

Wolves were soundly beaten by Porto, and Derby, after a heroic victory against Atletico Madrid, went out at Velez. A rather poor showing in this, not so long age, English dominated competition. But it was won by a truly progressive Gladbach team, which failed so narrowly a couple of years earlier against Liverpool. Jupp Heynckes, who got a hat-trick at the expense of Twente, finished as the season's top European scorer with 12. International club football, despite its inherent pitfalls, provides us with a fascinating kaleidoscope. The past season was no exception. We have seen some excellent matches, and all six finalists in the three competitions can be regarded as advocates of spectacular, attacking football. It's a pity that Bayern blotted their copybook, but perhaps we can forgive them this one lapse in the light of their past achievements.

Rothmans Sponsored Football 1974-5

four leagues were sponsored by Rothmans last season. The Isthmian and Hellenic completed their second year, and the Northern and Western experienced their first full programme, while promotion to the Isthmian and principles of sporting, attacking, and disciplined football. As can be seen from the statistics, the more able effort to Bletchley Sportsmen to win the Rothmans Northern League with only a single defeat or penalty conversion scored by matches. Western League clubs who scored over 300 more goals last season than they did in the 1973-74 campaign.

Both Wycombe Wanderers and Falmouth Town (who were also unbeaten) finished their rivals by each winning their last league game, and while all four league champions qualified for their prize money, it did not lose eight sportsmanship points. Wycombe scored only seven times in their 42 matches while winning the Championship, at the last two seasons as a perfect reward for disciplined football. Their efforts, and those of Leatherhead in the FA Cup, were a wonderful boost indeed for their league, but the one message from the Isthmian League might be seriously, if the introduction of three points instead of two for a league win. No league goes away from home for a draw, and the championship or relegation become close, as they often have been with Wycombe scoring their last two Championships in the last week of the season. Let's hope this year an equally exciting finish. Provided we don't have the game in its own way and costs absolutely nothing!

The final league tables for our four leagues can be found between pages 823 and 827.

Forty-one games of the Sportsmanship award remained intact at the end of the season, and the pool was supplemented by the money forfeited by Enfield, Staines Town, Southall, Tooting, and Harlow. Each club started the season with eight sportsmanship points, and lost one for each booking and four for each dismissal. Clubs who lost all eight points forfeited the right to claim league position and goalscoring awards.

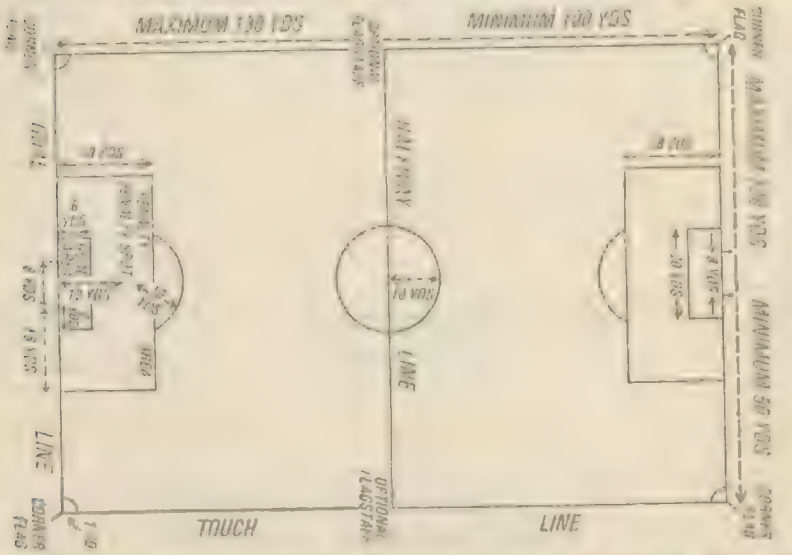
LAWS OF THE GAME

(Published by the Football Association, with whose permission they are reproduced)

LAW 1

THE FIELD OF PLAY

The Field of Play and appurtenances shall be as shown in the following plan:



(1) Dimensions. The field of play shall be rectangular, its length being not more than 130 yards nor less than 100 yards and its breadth not more than 100 yards nor less than 50 yards. (In International matches the length shall be not more than 120 yards nor less than 110 yards nor the breadth more than 80 yards nor less than 70 yards.) The length shall in all cases exceed the breadth.

(2) Marking. The field of play shall be marked with distinctive lines, not more than 5 inches in width, not by a V-shaped cut, in accordance with the plan, the longer boundary lines being called the touch-lines and the shorter the goal-lines. A flag on a post not less than 5 feet high and having a non-pointed top, shall be placed at each corner, a similar flag post may be placed opposite the halfway line on each side of the field of play, not less than 1 yard outside the touch line. A halfway-line shall be marked out across the field of play. The centre of the field of play shall be indicated by a suitable mark and a circle with a 10 yards radius shall be marked round it.

(3) The Goal-area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right-angles to the goal-line, 6 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 6 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these lines and the goal-line shall be called a goal-area.

(4) The Penalty-area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right angles to the goal-line, 18 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 18 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these lines and the goal-line shall be called a penalty-area. A suitable mark shall be made within each penalty-area, 12 yards from the mid-point of the goal-line, measured along an undrawn line at right angles thereto. These shall be the penalty-kick marks. From each penalty-kick mark an arc of a circle, having a radius of 10 yards, shall be drawn outside the penalty area.

(5) The Corner-area. From each corner flag post a quarter circle, having a radius of 1 yard, shall be drawn inside the field of play.

(6) The Goals. The goals shall be placed on the centre of each goal-line and shall consist of two upright posts, equidistant from the corner-flags and 8 yards apart (inside measurement), joined by a horizontal cross-bar the lower edge of which shall be 8 feet from the ground. The width and depth of the goal-posts and the width and depth of the cross-bars shall not exceed 5 inches (12 cm.). The goal-posts and the cross-bars shall have the same width.

Nets may be attached to the posts, cross-bars and ground behind the goals. They should be appropriately supported and be so placed as to allow the goalkeeper ample room.

The Board has approved this table of measurements for the Laws of the Game.

LAW 2
THE BALL

The ball shall be spherical. The outer casing shall be of leather or other approved materials. No material shall be used in its construction which might prove dangerous to the players.

The circumference of the ball shall not be more than 28 inches and not less than 27 inches. The weight of the ball at the start of the game shall not be more than 16 oz. nor less than 14 oz. = 396 to 453 grammes. The pressure shall be equal to one atmosphere, which equals 15 lbs/sq in. (= 1 kg/cm²) at sea level. The ball shall not be changed during the game unless authorised by the referee.

LAW 3
NUMBER OF PLAYERS

(1) A match shall be played by two teams, each consisting of not more than eleven players, one of whom shall be the goalkeeper.

(2) Substitutes may be used in any match played under the rules of a competition, subject to the following conditions:

(a) that the authority of the international association(s) or national association(s) concerned, has been obtained.

(b) that, subject to the restriction contained in the following paragraph (c) the rules of a competition shall state how many, if any, substitutes may be used, and

(c) that a team shall not be permitted to use more than two substitutes in any match.

(3) Substitutes may be used in any other match, provided that the two teams concerned reach agreement on a maximum number, not exceeding five, and that the terms of such agreement are intimated to the referee, before the match. If the referee is not informed, or if the teams fail to reach agreement, no more than two substitutes shall be permitted.

(4) Any of the other players may change places with the goalkeeper, provided that the referee is informed before the change is made, and provided also that the change is made during a stoppage in the game.

(5) When a goalkeeper or any other player is to be replaced by a substitute, the following conditions shall be observed:

(a) the referee shall be informed of the proposed substitution, before it is made,

(b) the substitute shall not enter the field of play until the player he is replacing has left, and then only after having received a signal from the referee, and

(c) he shall enter the field during a stoppage in the game, and at the half-way line

Punishment.

(a) Play shall not be stopped for an infringement of paragraph 4. The players concerned shall be cautioned immediately the ball goes out of play.

(b) For any other infringement of this Law, the player concerned shall be cautioned, and if the game is stopped by the referee, to administer the caution, it shall be re-started by an indirect free-kick, to be taken by a player of the opposing team, from the place where the ball was when play was stopped.

LAW 4
PLAYERS' EQUIPMENT

A player shall not wear anything which is dangerous to another player. Footwear (boots or shoes) must conform to the following standard:

(a) Bars shall be made of leather or rubber and shall be transverse and flat, not less than half an inch in width and shall extend the total width of the sole and be rounded at the corners.

(b) Studs which are independently mounted on the sole and are replaceable shall be made of leather, rubber, aluminium, plastic or similar material and shall be solid. With the exception of that part of the stud forming the base, which shall not protrude from the sole more than one quarter of an inch, studs shall be round in plan and not less than half an inch in diameter. Where studs are tapered, the minimum diameter of any section of the stud must not be less than half an inch. Where metal seating for the screw type is used, this seating must be embedded in the sole of the footwear and any attachment screw shall be part of the stud. Other than the metal seating for the screw type of stud, no metal plates even though covered with leather or rubber shall be worn, neither studs which are threaded to allow them to be screwed on to a base screw that is fixed by nails or otherwise to the soles of footwear nor studs which, apart from the base, have any form of protruding edge rim, or relief marking or ornament, should be allowed.

(c) Studs which are moulded as an integral part of the sole and are not replaceable shall be made of rubber, plastic, polyurethane or similar soft materials. Provided that there are no fewer than ten studs on the sole, they shall have a minimum diameter of three-eighths of an inch (10 mm.) In all other respects they shall conform to the general requirements of this law.

(d) Combined bars and studs may be worn, provided the whole conforms to the general requirements of this law. Neither bars nor studs on the soles shall project more than three-quarters of an inch. If nails are used they shall be driven in flush with the surface.

The goalkeeper shall wear colours which distinguish him from the other players and from the referee. The usual equipment of a player is a jersey or shirt, shorts, stockings and footwear. In a match played under the rules of a competition, players need not wear boots or shoes, but shall wear jersey or shirt, shorts, or track suit or similar trousers and stockings. The Law does not insist that boots or shoes must be worn. However, in competition matches Referees should not allow one or a few players to play without footwear when all the others players are so equipped.

Punishment. For any infringement of this Law the player at fault shall be sent off the field of play to adjust his equipment and he shall not return without first reporting to the Referee, who shall satisfy himself that the player's equipment is in order. The player shall only re-enter the game at a moment when the ball has ceased to be in play.

REFEREES

A Referee shall be appointed to officiate in each game. His authority and the exercise of the powers granted to him by the Laws of the Game commence as soon as he enters the field of play.

His power of penalising shall extend to offences committed when play has been temporarily suspended or when the ball is out of play. His decision on points of fact connected with the play shall be final, so far as the result of the game is concerned. He shall:

(a) Enforce the Laws. He shall, however, refrain from penalising in cases where he is satisfied that by doing so he would be giving an advantage to the offending team.

(b) Keep a record of the game, act as timekeeper and allow the full or agreed time, adding thereto all time lost through accident or other cause.

(e) Have discretionary power to stop the game for any infringement of the Laws and to suspend or terminate the game whatever, by reasons of the elements, interference by spectators, or other cause, he deems such stoppage necessary. In such a case he shall submit a detailed report to the competent authority, within the stipulated time, and in accordance with the provisions set up by the National Association under whose jurisdiction the match was played. Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(d) Caution any player guilty of misconduct or ungentlemanly behaviour and, if he persists, to suspend him from further participation in the game. In such cases the Referee shall send the name of the offender to the competent authority, within the stipulated time,* and in accordance with the provisions set up by the National Association under whose jurisdiction the match was played. Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(e) Allow no persons other than the players and Linesmen to enter the field of play without his permission.

(f) Stop the game if, in his opinion, a player has been seriously injured; have the player removed as soon as possible from the field of play, and immediately resume the game. If a player is slightly injured, the game shall not be stopped until the ball has ceased to be in play. A player who is able to go to the touch- or goal-line for attention of any kind shall not be treated on the field of play.

(g) Send off the field of play any player who, in his opinion, is guilty of violent conduct, serious foul play, or the use of foul and abusive language.

(h) Signal for recommencement of the game after all stoppages.

(i) Decide that the ball provided for a match meets with the requirements of Law 2.

The Referee shall report to the appropriate authority misconduct or any misdemeanour on the part of spectators, officials, players, named substitutes or other persons which takes place either on the field of play or in its vicinity at any time prior to, during or after the match in question so that appropriate action can be taken by the authority concerned.

LINESMEN

Two linesmen shall be appointed, whose duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to indicate when the ball is out of play and which side is entitled to the corner-kick, goal-kick, or throw-in. They shall give assist the Referee to control the game in accordance with the Laws. In the event of undue interference or misconduct by a Linesman, the Referee shall dispense with his services and arrange for a substitute to be appointed. (The matter shall be reported by the Referee to the competent authority.) The Linesmen should be equipped with flags by the Club on whose ground the match is played.

LAW 7
DURATION OF THE GAME

The duration of the game shall be two equal periods of 45 minutes, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon, subject to the following:

(a) Allowance shall be made in either period for all time lost through accident or other cause, the amount of which shall be a matter for the discretion of the Referee.

(b) Time shall be extended to permit of a penalty-kick being taken at or after the expiration of the normal period in either half.

At half-time the interval shall not exceed five minutes except by consent of the Referee.

LAW 8
THE START OF PLAY

(a) At the beginning of the game, choice of ends and the kick-off shall be decided by the toss of a coin. The team winning the toss shall have the option of choice of ends or the kick-off.

The Referee, having given a signal, the game shall be started by a player taking a place-kick (i.e., a kick at the ball while it is stationary on the ground in the centre of the field of play) into his opponents' half of the field of play. Every player shall be in his own half of the field and every player of the team opposing that of the kicker shall remain not less than 10 yards from the ball until it is kicked-off. A shall not be deemed in play until it has travelled the distance of its own circumference. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player.

* In England, within two days. Sundays not included.

(b) After a goal has been scored, the game shall be restarted in like manner by a player of the team losing the goal.

(c) After half-time, when restarting after half-time, ends shall be changed and the kick-off shall be taken by a player of the opposite team to that of the player who started the game. Punishment. For any infringement of this Law, the kick-off shall be retaken, except in the case of the kicker playing the ball again before it has been touched or played by another player, for this offence, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred. A goal shall not be scored direct from a kick-off.

(d) After any other temporary suspension: when restarting the game after a temporary suspension of play from any cause not mentioned elsewhere in these Laws, provided that immediately prior to the suspension the ball has not passed over the touch- or goal-lines, the Referee shall drop the ball at the place where it was when play was suspended and it shall be deemed in play when it has touched the ground; if, however, it goes over the touch- or goal-lines after it has been dropped by the Referee, but before it is touched by a player, the Referee shall again drop it. A player shall not play the ball until it has touched the ground. If this section of the Law is not complied with the Referee shall again drop the ball.

LAW 9
BALL IN AND OUT OF PLAY

The ball is out of play:

(a) When it has wholly crossed the goal-line or touch-line, whether on the ground or in the air.

(b) When the game has been stopped by the Referee.

The ball is in play at all other times from the start of the match to the finish including:

(a) If it rebounds from a goal-post, cross-bar or corner-flag post into the field of play.

(b) If it rebounds off either the Referee or Linesmen when they are in the field of play.

(c) In the event of a supposed infringement of the Laws, until a decision is given.

LAW 10
METHOD OF SCORING

Except as otherwise provided by these Laws, a goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal-line, between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, provided it has not been thrown, carried or intentionally propelled by hand or arm, by a player of the attacking side, except in the case of a goalkeeper who is within his own penalty-area.

The team scoring the greater number of goals during a game shall be the winner; if no goals, or any equal number of goals are scored, the game shall be termed a 'draw'.

LAW 11
OFF-SIDE

A player is off-side if he is nearer his opponents' goal-line than the ball at the moment the ball is played unless:

(a) He is in his own half of the field of play.

(b) There are two of his opponents nearer to their own goal-line than he is.

(c) The ball last touched an opponent or was last played by him.

(d) He receives the ball direct from a goal-kick, a corner-kick, a throw-in, or when it was dropped by the Referee.

Punishment. For an infringement of this Law, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred.

A player in an off-side position shall not be penalised unless, in the opinion of the Referee, he is interfering with the play or with an opponent, or is seeking to gain an advantage by being in an off-side position.

LAW 12
FOULS AND MISCONDUCT

A player who intentionally commits any of the following nine offences:

(a) Kicks or attempts to kick an opponent;

(b) Trips an opponent, i.e., throwing or attempting to throw him by the use of the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him;

(c) Jumps at an opponent;
(d) Charges an opponent in a violent or dangerous manner;
(e) Charges an opponent from behind unless the latter be obstructing;
(f) Strikes or attempts to strike an opponent;
(g) Holds an opponent;
(h) Pushes an opponent;
(i) Handles the ball, i.e. carries, strikes or propels the ball with his hand or arm.

(This does not apply to the goalkeeper within his own penalty area).

shall be penalised by the award of a direct free-kick to be taken by the opposing side from the place where the offence occurred.

Should a player of the defending side intentionally commit one of the above nine offences within the penalty-area he shall be penalised by a penalty-kick.

A penalty kick can be awarded irrespective of the position of the ball, if in play, at the time an offence within the penalty-area is committed.

If a player leans on the shoulders of another player of his own team in order to head the ball, the referee shall stop the game, caution the player for ungentlemanly conduct, and award an indirect free-kick to the opposing side.

A player committing any of the five following offences:

1. Playing in a manner considered by the Referee to be dangerous, e.g., attempting to kick the ball while held by the goalkeeper;
2. Charging fairly, i.e., with the shoulder, when the ball is not within playing distance of the players concerned and they are definitely not trying to play it;
3. When not playing the ball, intentionally obstructing an opponent, i.e., coming between the opponent and the ball, or interposing the body so as to form an obstacle to an opponent;
4. Charging the goalkeeper except when he
   (a) is holding the ball,
   (b) is obstructing an opponent;
   (c) has passed outside his goal-area;
5. When playing as goalkeeper
   (a) takes more than 4 steps whilst holding, bouncing or throwing the ball in the air and catching it again without releasing it so that it is played by another player, or
   (b) indulges in tactics which, in the opinion of the Referee, are designed merely to hold up the game and thus waste time and so give an unfair advantage to his own team shall be penalised by the award of an indirect free-kick to be taken by the opposing side from the place where the infringement occurred.

A player shall be cautioned if:

(j) he enters or re-enters the field of play to join or re-join his team after the game has commenced, or leaves the field of play during the progress of the game (except through accident) without, in either case, first having received a signal from the Referee showing him that he may do so. If the Referee stops the game to administer the caution the game shall be restarted by an indirect free-kick taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the offending player was when the Referee stopped the game. If, however, the offending player has committed a more serious offence he shall be penalised according to that section of the law he infringed
(k) He persistently infringes the Laws of the Game;
(l) he shows by word or action, dissent from any decision given by the Referee;
(m) he is guilty of ungentlemanly conduct.

For any of these last three offences, in addition to the caution, an indirect free-kick shall also be awarded to the opposing side from the place where the offence occurred, unless a more serious infringement of the Laws of the Game was committed.

A player shall be sent off the field of play if:
(n) in the opinion of the Referee, he is guilty of violent conduct or serious foul play;
(o) he uses foul or abusive language;
(p) he persists in misconduct after having received a caution.

If play be stopped by reason of a player being ordered from the field for an offence without a separate breach of the Law having been committed, the game shall be restarted by an indirect free-kick awarded to the opposing side from the place where the infringement occurred. If, when a referee is about to caution a player, and before he has done so, the player commits another offence which merits a caution, the player shall be sent off the field of play.

LAW 13
FREE-KICK

Free-kicks shall be classified under two heads: 'Direct' (from which a goal can be scored direct against the offending side), and 'Indirect' (from which a goal cannot be scored unless the ball has been played or touched by a player other than the kicker before passing through the goal).

When a player is taking a direct or an indirect free-kick inside his own penalty-area, all of the opposing players shall remain outside the area, and shall be at least ten yards from the ball whilst the kick is being taken. The ball shall be in play immediately it has travelled the distance of its own circumference and is beyond the penalty-area. The goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands, in order that he may thereafter kick it into play. If the ball is not kicked direct into play, beyond the penalty-area, the kick shall be retaken.

When a player is taking a direct or an indirect free-kick outside his own penalty-area, all of the opposing players shall be at least ten yards from the ball, until it is in play, unless they are standing on their own goal-line, between the goal-posts. The ball shall be in play when it has travelled the distance of its own circumference.

If a player of the opposing side encroaches into the penalty-area, or within ten yards of the ball, as the case may be, before a free-kick is taken, the Referee shall delay the taking of the kick, until the Law is complied with.

The ball must be stationary when a free-kick is taken, and the kicker shall not play the ball a second time, until it has been touched or played by another player.

In order to distinguish between a direct and an indirect free-kick, the referee, when he awards an indirect free-kick, shall indicate accordingly by raising an arm above his head. He shall keep his arm in that position until the kick has been taken.

Punishment. If the kicker after taking the free-kick plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team, from the spot where the infringement occurred.

PENALTY-KICK

A penalty-kick shall be taken from the penalty-mark and, when it is being taken, all players with the exception of the player taking the kick, and the opposing goalkeeper, shall be within the field of play but outside the penalty-area, and at least 10 yards from the penalty-mark. The opposing goalkeeper must stand (without moving his feet) on his own goal-line, between the goal posts, until the ball is kicked. The player taking the kick must kick the ball forward; he shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player. The ball shall be deemed to be in play directly it is kicked, i.e., has travelled the distance of its circumference, and a goal may be scored direct from such a penalty kick. If the ball touches the goalkeeper before passing between the posts, when a penalty-kick is being taken, or after the expiration of half-time or full-time, it does not nullify a goal. If necessary, time of play shall be extended at half-time or full-time to allow a penalty-kick to be taken.

Punishment. For any infringement of this Law:

(a) by the defending team, the kick shall be retaken if a goal has not resulted;

(b) by the attacking team, other than by the player taking the kick, if a goal is scored it shall be disallowed and the kick retaken.

(c) by the player taking the penalty-kick, committed after the ball is in play, a player of the opposing team shall take an indirect free-kick from the spot where the infringement occurred.

N.B. 1. When the referee has awarded a penalty-kick, he shall not signal for it to be taken, until the players have taken up position in accordance with the Law.

2. (a) If, after the kick has been taken, the ball is stopped in its course towards goal, by an outside agent, the kick shall be retaken.

(b) If, after the kick has been taken, the ball rebounds into play, from the goalkeeper, the cross-bar or a goal-post, and is then stopped in its course by an outside agent, the referee shall stop play and restart it by dropping the ball at the place where it came into contact with the outside agent.

3. (a) If, after having given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, the Referee sees that the goalkeeper is not in his right place on the goal-line, he shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball has been kicked, the goalkeeper moves his feet, the Referee shall nevertheless allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

(c) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a player of the defending team encroaches into the penalty area, or within ten yards of the penalty-mark, the Referee shall nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. It shall be retaken, if a goal is not scored.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

4. (a) If, when a penalty-kick is being taken, the player taking the kick is guilty of ungentlemanly conduct, the kick, if already taken, shall be retaken if a goal is scored.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a colleague of the player taking the kick encroaches into the penalty area or within ten yards of the penalty-mark, the Referee shall, nevertheless, allow the kick to proceed. If a goal is scored, it shall be disallowed, and the kick retaken.

The player concerned shall be cautioned.

(c) If, in the circumstances described in the foregoing paragraph, the ball rebounds into play from the goalkeeper, the cross-bar or a goal post, the Referee is not to intervene so long as the player shall stop the game, and award an indirect free-kick to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred.

5. (a) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, the goalkeeper moves from his position on the goal-line, or moves his feet, and a colleague of the kicker encroaches into the penalty area or within 10 yards of the penalty-mark, the kick, if taken, shall be retaken.

The colleague of the kicker shall be cautioned.

(b) If, after the Referee has given the signal for a penalty-kick to be taken, and before the ball is in play, a player of each team encroaches into the penalty-area or within 10 yards of the penalty-mark, the kick, if taken, shall be retaken.

The players concerned shall be cautioned.

6. When a match is extended, at half-time or full-time, to allow a penalty-kick to be taken or retaken, the extension shall last until the moment that the penalty-kick has been completed, i.e. until the Referee has decided whether or not a goal is scored.

A goal is scored when the ball passes wholly over the goal-line

(a) direct from the penalty-kick,

(b) having rebounded from either goal-post or the cross-bar, or

(c) having touched or been played by the goalkeeper.

The game shall terminate immediately the Referee has made his decision.

7. When a penalty-kick is being taken in extended time —

(a) the provisions of all the foregoing paragraphs, except paragraphs 2 (b) and 4 (c) shall apply in the usual way, and

(b) in the circumstances described in paragraph 2 (b) and 4 (c) the game shall terminate immediately the ball rebounds from the goalkeeper, the cross-bar or the goal-post.

LAW 15
THROW-IN

When the whole of the ball passes over a touch-line, either on the ground or in the air, it shall be thrown in from the point where it crossed the line, in any direction, by a player of the team opposite to that of the player who last touched it. The thrower at the moment of delivering the ball must face the field of play and part of each foot shall be either on the touch-line or on the ground outside the touch-line. The thrower shall use both hands and shall deliver the ball from behind and over his head. The ball shall be in play immediately it enters the field of play, but the thrower shall not again play the ball until it has been touched or played by another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from a throw-in.

Punishment:

(a) If the ball is improperly thrown in the throw-in shall be taken by a player of the opposing team.

(b) If the thrower plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred.

LAW 16
GOAL-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the attacking team, it shall be kicked direct into play beyond the penalty-area from a point within that half of the goal-area nearest to where it crossed the line, by a player of the defending team. A goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands from a goal-kick in order that he may thereafter kick it into play. If the ball is not kicked beyond the penalty-area, i.e., direct into play, the kick shall be retaken. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has touched or been played by another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the goal-kick shall remain outside the penalty-area whilst the kick is being taken.

Punishment. If a player taking a goal-kick plays the ball a second time after it has passed beyond the penalty-area, but before it has touched or been played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be awarded to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred.

CORNER-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line, excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the defending team, a member of the attacking team shall kick the ball from within the quarter circle at the nearest corner flag-post, which must not be moved, i.e., a corner-kick. A goal may be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the corner-kick shall not approach within 10 yards of the ball until it is in play, i.e., it has travelled the distance of its own circumference, nor shall the kicker play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player.

Punishment:

(a) If the player who takes the kick plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player, the Referee shall award an indirect free-kick to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred.

(b) For any other infringement the kick shall be retaken.

KNOCK-OUT COMPETITIONS—OBTAINING A RESULT

1. The referee shall choose the goal at which all of the kicks shall be taken.

2. He shall toss a coin, and the team whose captain wins the toss shall take the first kick.

3. (a) Subject to the terms of the following paragraphs (c) and (d) both teams shall take five kicks. (b) The kicks shall be taken alternately. (c) If, before both teams have taken five kicks, one has scored more goals than the other could, even if it were to complete its five kicks, the taking of kicks shall cease. (d) If, after both teams have taken five kicks, both have scored the same number of goals, or have not scored any goals, the taking of kicks shall continue, in the same order, until such time as both have taken an equal number of kicks (not necessarily five more kicks) and one has scored a goal more than the other.

4. The team which scores the greater number of goals, whether the number of kicks taken is in accordance with the terms of the foregoing paragraph 3(a), 3(c) or (3*d*) shall qualify for the next round of the competition, or shall be declared winner of the competition, as the case may be.

5. Except that a named substitute may replace a goalkeeper who sustains an injury during the taking of the kicks, and who, because of the injury, is unable to continue as goalkeeper, only the players who are on the field of play at the end of the match, which shall mean at the end of extra time in so far as a match in which extra time is authorised, is concerned, and any who, having left the field temporarily, with or without the referee's permission, are not on the field of play at that time, shall be eligible to take part in the taking of the kicks.

6. Each kick shall be taken by a different player, and not until all eligible players of any team, including the goalkeeper or the named substitute by whom he was replaced in terms of paragraph 5 as the case may be, have each taken a kick, may a player of the same team take a second kick.

7. Subject to the terms of paragraph 5, any player who is eligible may change places with his goalkeeper at any time during the taking of the kicks.

8 (a) Other than the player taking a kick from the penalty-mark, and the two goalkeepers, all players shall remain within the centre circle whilst the taking of kicks is in progress. (b) The goalkeeper who is a colleague of the kicker, shall take up position within the field of play, outside the penalty area at which the kicks are being taken, behind the line which runs parallel with the goal-line, and at least 10 yards from the penalty-mark.

9. Unless stated to the contrary in the foregoing paragraphs 1 to 8, the Laws of the Game, and the International Board Decisions relating thereto, shall, in so far as they can, apply at the taking of the kicks.

N.B.:—In the event of light failing before the end of the taking of kicks from the penalty mark, the result shall be decided by the toss of a coin or the drawing of lots.

Coaching and Coaches

The English Football Association's coaching scheme, arguably the best in the World, has various aims and objects but as a central theme it pronounces as perhaps its most laudable intention, to quote from its coaching handbook, the desire that 'everyone who passes through the coaching scheme is expected to protect and foster all that is good about the game and to stamp out that is against the spirit of the game'. To this end the FA both provide and administer a wide variety of activities of an instructional, educative, and interesting nature.

These include (1) Courses for coaches embracing (a) the Preliminary coaching certificate and (b) the full qualifying coaching award. The preliminary certificate can be awarded to men of 18 years and upwards who take instruction and pass an examination in the theory of coaching, the Laws of the Game, practical performance, and practical coaching. The qualifying award follows the same pattern but only those already in possession of the preliminary certificate may attempt it. The subjects for examination are: the theory of coaching, practical coaching, and practical performance.

(2) Other courses such as (a) preparatory sessions and (b) refresher courses. The purpose of the preparatory course which may be for a day, a weekend, or longer is to prepare preliminary badge men for the full award while the refresher course, again being for a day, weekend, or even a week, is to congregate various coaches together and take them through the latest developments in coaching, inter alia fresh methods of teaching, new techniques that are becoming beneficial, the propagation of skill-work, and the dissemination of new coaching ideas.

(3) Courses for teachers, including both men and women, which are designed to meet the needs of those involved with teaching football to children. A certificate is available after satisfactory attendance on a course but there is no examination.

Much of the work involving the administration of such courses and the development of and liaison with Coaching Associations (organisations of men who congregate to hear lectures, attend refresher courses and watch demonstrations of coaching and training ideas and methods of performance) is undertaken by the Regional Coaches of whom there are four around the Country. They are ably assisted by the Staff Coaches, appointed by the FA for their excellence in coaching and for their dedication to and work for the coaching scheme.

The head of the coaching department at the Football Association is Mr Allen Wade and his assistant Director is Mr Charles Hughes. Their address for communication is at the FA headquarters, namely 16 Lancaster Gate, London W2 3LW. The four Regional Coaches previously referred to are (1) The North Region—Mr Keith Wright—office address 22 High Street, Sheffield S1 2GE (phone Sheffield 874108). (2) The North West Region—Mr Terry Casey—office 31A Wellington Street, St John's, Blackburn BB1 8AU (phone Blackburn 51642). (3) Midland Region—Mr Kevin Verity—office 25 Gresham Chambers, 14 Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton WV1 1DG (phone Wolverhampton 27407). (4) London and South East Region—Mr Colin Murphy—office Clarence Chambers, Fairfield West, Kingston upon Thames KT2 6QH (phone 01-546 8720). Details of the various coaching courses and annual summer residential courses can be obtained either from Lancaster Gate or the Regional Offices.

As part of the dissemination of coaching material the FA either publish or authorise several technical books on coaching and allied subjects, a full catalogue of which is available from Lancaster Gate.

There are two coaching magazines published and available for those interested in this subject, and these are:—

(1) Soccer Insight, published by the Football Association. Joint editors are John Adams and Keith Wright; available 4 times per year; obtainable from the North Regional Coaching Office at 22 High Street, Sheffield S1 2GE. (2) Soccer Coach, produced by the London Football Coaches Association; editor Kenneth Goldman; available 3 times per year; price 15p per copy plus 10p p&p obtainable from Mr J. Keen, 21 Haynes Park Court, Slewins Close, Hornchurch, Essex.

I.P.C. National Press Awards

SPORTS WRITER CATEGORY

Ian Wooldridge, Sports Columnist of the Daily Mail, was chosen as Sports Writer of 1974. This is one of the awards originally instituted in memory of the brilliant journalist, Hannen Swaffer.

Wooldridge entered journalism by the traditional route of working a 168-hour week covering funerals, inquests and magistrates' courts by bicycle for the weekly New Milton Advertiser, in Hampshire.

This early exposure to death convinced him that sportswriting couldn't be worse. He joined the News Chronicle, where he wrote about football and golf, and then moved to the Sunday Dispatch to write a column.

Both newspapers collapsed under him. The Daily Mail, for which he has now worked for 15 years, survives.

After two years of general sports reporting he was appointed cricket correspondent in 1962 and concentrated almost exclusively on the game for the next eight years, touring Australia twice, West Indies, India and South Africa.

In 1964 he had the enervating experience of travelling 32,000 miles in nine weeks to cover five cricket matches in India and one in Australia. All six were drawn.

He became the paper's sports columnist in 1971 with the catholic brief of writing about anything which didn't eventually guarantee a libel action.

For two years he worked as a reporter on the London Weekend TV Sports Arena programme and has reported on television for the BBC.

He has written two books on cricket, broadcast frequently in the World Service of the BBC and has written a number of sports film documentaries.

Married with three sons, his enthusiasms are golf, Beethoven, books, dry martinis, and an extremely private peccadillo, bullfighting.

Previous winners of the award:
1963: J. L. Manning; 1964: George Whiting; 1965: Peter Wilson; 1966: Hugh McIlvanney; 1967: Sam Leitch; 1968: Chris Brasher; 1969: Hugh McIlvanney; 1970: Frank Butler; 1971: Ian Wooldridge; 1972: John Morgan, 1973: Peter Batt.
